20 MILLION FANS
KNOW EVERY PLAY MADE, SAYS WILL

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Oct.
15.—That was a mighty fine

ing of President and Mrs.
Hoover going clear to Philadelphia to see what baseball game.
Base ball is still and always will be our national game, it requires more brains, more practice and a more real skill than all our others put together. It's the only game, when you see it played, that you know whether the ones playing it are being paid or not.

There was twenty million baseball fans listening to the world series that knew every play made, and why, and how it was made, but still don't know what Harvard is a town or a mou. I wish, whether Yale is a yell or a lock, and think, all Notre Dame's are chances.

So viva baseball! I s for us unfortunate ones who are no clams.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Pa New drove behind a motorist on the New Castle-Youngstown road, Saturday evening, who was so cautious he fell over backwards—almost.
At any rate, it was a pleasure to pass him, finally.

There have been so many detours around New Castle, during the summer, that Pa New will feel lost without them.

A bright new sign—"To New Castle junction," points the way to a road at the foot of the Mt. Jackson hill. It is good to see bright, live signs such as this one.

The turn at Mt. Jackson, onto the road to Bessemer could be helped a lot, it is feared.

It would be well to cut the shrubbery hiding at the Harmony line crossing this side of the County Road on the Elmwood road. Motorists find it difficult to see approaching cars.

Hail is reported to have fallen to the depth of two inches in Union township during the electrical storm yesterday afternoon. It didn't harm any in New Castle, but the storm threatened to disrupt the displaying of the game on The News scoreboard and suspended activities for several innings.

A heavy frost was noticed this morning, the temperature getting down to 32 degrees, accompanied by heavy fog. With so much moisture in the air considerable damage was done to plants which have survived so far the ravages of the frost king.

Yesterday afternoon's electrical storm will undoubtedly be the last one of the year. It is rather unusual for thunder showers at this time of the fall. As a rule, we have a snow storm in this section of Pennsylvania during the early part of October.

In Neshannock township a lot of road improvement work is being completed. Numerous dirt roads have been slugged and asked so that they will be easily traversed during the coming winter.

Any tomatoes that had survived the earlier frosts are done, growers asserted today. The frost last night was heavy, and ice was frozen here and there.

Traffic conditions early this morning were about as hazardous as any that have been experienced in many months. There was an extremely heavy fog and all traffic had to move very cautiously.

Council has awarded the contract for removal of the Rosena furnace dam, and work which was started by city employees several months ago is to be concluded. The dam will be removed before winter. It is anti-Precipitation, 22 inches.

River stage 3.8 feet and rising.

CONGRESS FIGHT

Wets And Drys Alike Are At Odds On Drastic Prohi-

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The Sheppard bill to make the buyer of bootleg liquor equally guilty with the seller has split the wets, the drys, the judiciary, and the Constitutionalists in Congress wide open.

No single question that has arisen in connection with the many-sided prohibition controversy has caused such a wide divergence of opinion among both friends and foes of Volsteadism, a survey disclosed today.

Will Produce Battle
There will be a battle over it when Congress convenes in regular session in December that is going to reveal some strange political bed-fellows.

Two federal district courts have held that the man who buys an illegal drink is equally guilty of a felony with the man who sells it. The circuit court of appeals, second district, has held he is not.

Senator Sheppard (D) of Texas,
the so-called "father of prohibition," regards his new bill as the logical concluding step in the enforcement of prohibition. Dr. A. J. Barton, a prohibition pillar for many years, deplores the Sheppard bill and doubts its legality or its wisdom.

Drys Are Split
The drys are split wide open—some, like Sheppard, contending that it is the logical next step, and others, like Barton, fearing that it will cause such a revolution of feeling and arouse so much opposition as to seriously menace the maintenance of Volsteadism on the statute books. They fear it is

Big Business Man Says Too Much Golf Hurting Business Of America

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—"Too much

That's one of the few things wrong with business today, in the opinion of George L. Markland, chairman of the Philadelphia Gear Works, and one of the 1,000 delegates attending the annual convention of the Nation-

He emphasized the "but."

whom he strangled to death in the Roosevelt Hotel Oct. 7, probably will

It was stated at the office of the Visit Points Of Interest At Niagara Falls; Ishbel Runs Train For Few Seconds

(International News Service)
NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Oct.
15.—Prime Minister Ramsay Mac-Donald spent his last few hours on American soil here today before crossing into Canada where he will hold important conferences with dominion officials.

The prime minister, his daughter Ishbel and the others of their party were to cross over to Niagara Falls, Ont., this morning, and were to leave this afternoon for Toronto. From there they will proceed to Ottawa where Mr. MacDonald is expected to make another important announcement regarding his conversations with President Hoover, after conferring with Prime Minister MacKenzie King of Canada.

Regrets Leaving.
The prime minister made the last public address of his visit to this country at a dinner given in his honor by the state reservation commission at the Niagara Falls hotel last night.
In a brief speech, Mr. MacDonald stated that it was only with regret that he was leaving the United States and that he wished he could stay longer in the country which had so well received him on his international mission of good-will.

"I should have liked to stay, but I can't," he said. "I should have liked to see more of you, but I can't."
"I take Niagara and all that has happened in harnessing its ceaseless activity to symbolize, somehow, the work that I have been trying to do in the last few months."

Falls Conquered.

appeared certain of defying the in-

Elmwood Place, a Cincinnati suburb today.

Many passengers were reported to have been hurt but none seriously.
Fireman L. O. Thompson is the dead man, and Engineer P. J.
("Paddy") Maloney was so badly scalded by the escaping steam that he is expected to die.

Names of the injured were not available at noon. Cause of the de-

Tube Officials To Probe Blast, Four Are Dead

Four Workmen Are Dead, Ten Injured In McKeesport
Tube Blast

ACCIDENT CAUSED BY MOLTEN METAL

Steam Of Molten Metal Overflows From Ladle And Explodes As It Touches Water

(International News Service)
McKEESPORT, Pa., Oct. 15.—
Officials of the National Tube Company today are launching an investigation into the explosion which killed four men and injured 10 others in the McKeesport plant yesterday afternoon.

One man was killed instantly and three others died shortly after the blast in the hospital here.
Julius Burtasky, 45, of McKeesport was instantly killed and John Sando, 19, McKeesport and Carl Hoffman, 30, and Philip Sandmeyer, 59, of Greenock, near here, died in the hospital.

Hot Metal Overflows John Kastely, 49, McKeesport, is still in the hospital where he is suffering from painful though not serious burns and the other nine injured were treated and sent to their homes yesterday afternoon.

The blast occurred when a stream of hot metal overflowed from a ladle and exploded when it struck water in the pit below. The molten metal was thrown in all directions by the force of the explosion and spread over the floor in all directions, making rescue work difficult.
It is believed that the mixer from which the metal was being poured into the ladle failed to work properly when the latter was full and permitted an excess of the molten mass to overflow.

Order Is Made To Open Ballot Box

Officials Placed Registry List Inside In Second Precinct, Fourth Ward

County Commissioners presented a petition to Judge Hildebrand this morning asking that the ballot box in the second district of the fourth ward be opened. When the official count of the vote cast at the recent primary was being made it was found that the election officers had deposited the registration books in the ballot box along with the ballots after they had counted them. The books should have been returned to the county commissioners.

No irregularity is claimed further than the mistake of the election board in misplacing the books. However it is necessary for a court order to open the box. The order was made by Judge Hildebrand.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Fitzgerald, Wilmington avenue, have returned from Philadelphia where they visited their son, James, who is a medical student in the University of Pennsylvania.

Possible Cost To Taxpayers Of Projected Bond Issues Presented By City Solicitor

In his concluding article on the projected five year bond program, which New Castle citizens are to vote on at the coming November election, City Solicitor Robert
M. White discusses the possible cost of the bond issues to the taxpayers of the city.

Mr. White will answer any queries concerning the bond issue projects that are asked in good faith, and can be answered in the same manner, he has announced, so that any citizen desiring further enlightenment on the bond issues is free to submit his questions. Either send them direct to Mr. White, or to The News, and they will be taken care of.

The article concerning the possible cost of the bond issues is as follows:
The Possible Cost of the Bond Issue.
At the meeting of the Boosters club
the great majority of the people seemed to want to know first what was proposed to do with the money if the several bond issues passed. There was a very strong and logical sentiment expressed that there should be some definite program presented for each issue, in order that the voters might have an intelligent opinion as to the necessity for the issues and the wisdom of approving them. I have endeavored to set forth the necessity for the several issues and to explain the program as recommended by var-

Lobbying Probe Gets Under Way In Washington

Senatorial Committee Turns Spotlight On Tariff Commission Activities

MANY PROMINENT OFFICIALS CALLED

Seek To Learn Whether Or Not Pressure Was Ever Brought Upon Congress

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—
The greatest lobby investigation ever undertaken by the senate got under way today with a senatorial committee turning its spotlight directly on activities of the United States tariff commission.

The initial effort of the Senate investigators was to learn whether the tariff commission ever changed its decisions on rate questions because of political influence or industrial pressure. This phase of the inquiry involved the pottery industry, since the first witnesses were Frederick L.
Koch, pottery expert on the tariff commission, and William Burgess, former commissioner, now affiliated with the U. S. Potters' Association.

Commissioners Under Fire
"We want to find out first whether any commissioner ever changed his vote on an important rate question under threats of losing his job," explained Senator F. H. Cawley (D) of Arkansas, chairman of the investigating committee. "After that, we will take up the activities of the sugar lobby before going on to other matters."

In connection with the sugar lobby
the committee subpoenaed Thomas O.
Martin, chairman of the tariff commission, and Edgar B. Brossard, member. They apparently will be questioned about political pressure brought on the commission in 1923 to prevent a report on the sugar duty. This report was filed subsequently with President Coolidge and urged a sweeping reduction of the sugar tariff.

H. A. Austin, representing the United States Beet Sugar Company and H. C. Lakin, president of the Cuba Company, also were under subpoena. They probably will not be reached until tomorrow.

When these phases have been covered the committee will call Joseph C. Grundy, the so-called "grand-daddy of all lobbyists," who has represented the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association in Washington for two decades. Grundy has been credited with "writing" the pending tariff bill and if that is an exaggeration, he certainly can be credited with wielding more influence upon it than any other man in Washington.

To Question Eyanson
Charles L. Eyanson, the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association's agent, who spent two days attending secret sessions of the finance committee, will be questioned later. Eyanson was taken into the committee room as a special secretary to Senator Bingham (R) of Connecticut.

There's a tidbit that I fancy as the autumn comes apace, sort of fits in-the time to start a-things of old spangled princes, or for ordinary clods. Punkin pie, bring on an order, large and fat then bring on more, it's the season now for gorging, weather's cool and jifty-four.

Well, the world's series is over once again, and now the sport world turns whole heartedly to football. One of the classics of the season occurs in Lawrence county this week when Westminster and Grove City meet in the annual game at New Wilmington Saturday.

Plans are progressing for the celebration of Halloween in New Castle on the last night of October. Ivor Davis is already on the job and is marshalling his committees to the task.

While the drought may have been responsible for short crops on some farm products there appears to be a big crop of pumpkins. They are smaller than usual, but at some farms large quantities of the yellow pumpkins have been collected.

Work is progressing rapidly on the completion of the Wilmington road between this city and Walpole. Workmen stayed on the job on Sunday in order to hasten work.

Late risers in the downtown district missed the thrill of a fog this morning. And when we say fog that's exactly what is meant. Motorists had to proceed with caution, pedestrians crossed streets nervously and everything functioned as if nobody was quite sure of anything.

The postoffice men will soon bring a "finis" to their horseshoe tournament. The boys are battling every day and more are being eliminated every 24 hours. A prize of a fountain pen and pencil awaits the champ of them all.

While the traffic light at Park and Highland has been there for quite a period, Young Pa News last night saw a driver go speeding up past other cars held up by the red light and without the least bit of care sounded the horn for pedestrians who were crossing, then sped on. At Laurel avenue the driver duplicated the same act and went through on red.

Pa News observes that Pennsylvania auto license tags are rapidly nearing the 1,500,000 mark. He observed license number E98,849 this morning, which is just 1,251 off the mark. Parked immediately behind this car in front of the Temple building on North street was license number E83,872.

Local People Injured In Sunday Accident

Mrs. Cecil Koonse of the East Side and Billy Kite of Hanna street were injured, the latter quite seriously, on Sunday afternoon at Ketter's Corners on the road to Farrell, Pa., when the Koonse machine in which they were riding was sideswiped and wrecked by another car. Both were removed following the accident to the Buhl hospital in Sharon. Later the same day Mrs. Koonse was removed to the New Castle hospital. She is apparently injured in the right side and is also suffering considerably from the shock. Billy Kite was so seriously injured about the head that it was thought best to leave him in the Sharon hospital.

When I came again I found that the will and the dreams of men had overcome the most potent of nature's powers.

"What are the peace-makers doing? We are subduing, leading, guiding and glorifying the untamed and unbridled nature of mankind."

Following the dinner the prime minister and his daughter made a night tour of the sights here, saw the falls illuminated and toured various islands. This afternoon they were to visit points of interest on the Canadian side, with Mr. MacDonald acting as guide for his daughter as he has been here several times.

The all day train ride here from New York afforded the prime minister time to attend to matters requiring his attention and also to catch a few cat-naps.

Isabel Runs Train.

During the longest of these, between Syracuse and Rochester, Isabel made her way to the locomotive cab and, garbed in a coat and goggles borrowed from an engineer, felt the thrill of having her hand on the throttle of one of the fastest trains in the United States.

She returned to the club car after having a grand time, blowing the engine's whistle, clanging the bell and poking her face outside the cab window while traveling at more than a mile a minute.

At Rochester a humorous incident occurred. While Mr. MacDonald was still talking to a group of well-wishers, his train suddenly pulled out, leaving him behind on the platform. The engineer had mistaken a signal from the conductor. The train was immediately backed up and the prime minister boarded it, smiling broadly at the incident, while train officials apologized profusely.

SOLAR RADIATION IN OUTER SPACE.

By Arthur D. V. Carpenter.

"What effect physically if any, would the sun's heat have upon a human being if they were suspended high above the earth's atmosphere or envelope?"—Interested Reader.

The radiation from the sun to the earth, travels through millions of miles of empty space—a vacuum—and does not yield up its heat until it meets with the physical resistance of the earth's surface under it. Outer space has a temperature of -273 degrees Centigrade. But were a human body suspended in outer space, the solar rays striking it would meet with resistance and be converted into heat; however, not enough heat to create much perceptible warmth.

LOBBYING PROBE GETS UNDER WAY IN WASHINGTON

When other Republicans learned of Eyanson's connection with the Connecticut Association, they insisted upon its disclosure. He probably will be questioned about his activities in the committee room and in "aiding" Senator Bingham, who was chairman of a sub-committee that conducted long hearings on rates.

The inquiry, starting with tariff lobbies, will range far afield before it is ended. It undoubtedly will involve the so-called "social lobbies" of Washington's society, as well as the organization which have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars to influence every important act of Congress in recent years.

Start On Pottery Industry.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—A story of how the pottery industry sought the dismissal of an expert from the United States tariff commission because he told the truth to congress was revealed today at the opening session of the senate's lobby inquiry.

Frederick L. Koch, chief of the ceramic division of the commission, charged the pottery industry with trying to get him fired because of the data he gave to congress. He blamed William Burgess, former commissioner, now representing the United States Pottery Association with leading the fight for his dismissal.

"The startling fact," Koch told the senate committee, "was that Mr. Burgess admitted my facts were not incorrect but he complained that they were detrimental to the pottery industry."

"They had no complaint to find with the facts I gave congress but argued I shouldn't have given them."

"Mr. Burgess wanted you dismissed because you told the truth?" "That seemed to be his purpose."

The activity of lobbyists for the pottery industry was the first subject taken up by the committee.

Koch first told of testifying before the house ways and means committee. He said his statistical data was attacked by Republican members of the committee, apparently because it did not justify an increase in tariff duties on pottery.

"After my appearance, Mr. Burgess appeared before the commission and preferred charges against me," said Koch. He claimed my testimony was prejudiced and biased."

Koch said his data related solely to "conditions and prices in the pottery industry." He said he never made any recommendation about rates. Subsequently, Koch added, the house ways and means committee ignored his testimony and raised the rates on pottery. Then Koch told of appearing before the senate finance committee, which reduced the house rates.

"After that, Mr. Burgess was very active in trying to get me dismissed," said Koch.

Koch also told how H. R. Wylie, president of a pottery company at Huntington, W. Va., had written President Hoover urging his dismissal. Koch said Wylie charged him with being "against the best interests of his government, the pottery industry and labor."

In conclusion, the witness told of a long personal friendship for David Walker, president of a pottery importing concern. Koch said this friendship was purely personal and had no business aspects.

Legion Rifle Club To Meet Wednesday

Members of the American Legion Rifle Club will meet Wednesday evening at eight o'clock in the Legion Home Association building for the purpose of reorganizing for the coming year.

Election of officers will take place at this time and plans will be discussed for increasing the membership of the club, which has enjoyed a successful season during the year just closing.

golf links. One day a week for golf isn't enough anymore. It's every day. "And a lot of these business men can't stand it, physically. It's tiring them out. They're all in when they reach their offices."

"Why, we had a business meeting scheduled here yesterday and a lot of the manufacturers were absent. Where were they? Out playing golf and taking in the shows."

"I have always believed that a man gets more pleasure out of work—out of achieving—than out of play. I believe everyone should relax. If a busy man did not he would break down. Golf once in a while is all right but too much is all wrong."

"The 'hysteria' of Americans for a good time is also manifested by working men who are bent on establishing a five-day week. Mr. Markland said.

Stay Out of Market.

He also had a word or two for the people who are trying to get rich in the stock market so that they can have more leisure for play.

"Stay out of the market," he advises. "You (the general public) are being used for suckers. If you must buy stocks, chuck them in the safe and hold them. Don't speculate on margins. That's cream for the stock brokers and these investment houses."

Mr. Markland said business men do not go in for politics as a general thing because "people don't want a business administration." (He was mayor of Stone Harbor, N. J., at one time.)

"The happiest working man in politics is Herbert Hoover, a great president, he added. "But I'll venture that in another year the people will be criticizing him."

What Her Money Did.
Mussolini and Solon.
What Is Life? No Answer.
Why Submarines?

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE (Copyright, 1929, King Features Syn., Inc.)

A woman 80 years old is found dead in an apartment for which she paid $12 a month, very little in a big city. Miss Brandt, who brought her a bowl of hot soup every day, found the body, called the police.

Detectives found hidden in the apartment $400,000 in bills, gold, silver, bonds and bank accounts.

Every one asks "what good did all her money do her?"
The answer: "Great good. It kept her from worry in her old age, and allowed her to die in peace."

Few realize the bitterness of poverty, as years creep on, and strength and friends fade away.

That old woman's money bought for her just one thing, INDEPENDENCE, and nothing could be more precious.

Mussolini says he relinquishes seven portfolios, important places in the Italian government to create a machine that will keep Italy going "when I can no longer guide it."

This indicates that dictator does not take the royal family seriously, as a governing machine. But he has treated that family royally, preserving its constitutional rights, and showing all respect to the king, whom he doubtless regards as a necessary part of government paraphernalia.

To understand Mussolini, consider Draco, Solon and others of the law-making type more recent. Mussolini is their racial descendant. He asks himself what laws the people need, invents and promulgates them.

Draco punished great and lesser crimes with death, because the lesser crimes preserved death, and he had no greater penalty for the great crimes.

Solon, asked if he had given Athens the best laws that could be given, said he had given the Athenians "the best laws they could receive." He knew and allowed for the weaknesses of human beings, as does Mussolini. He would not hesitate to repeal existing laws, as Solon did, cancel debts, make special rules for the relations of a husband with a rich wife, or grade the citizens according to wealth.

We cannot understand that. Our civilization is younger, our "big men" stand more in awe of rulership by the tribe.

H. G. Wells, collaborating with Huxley and George P. Wells, writes a series of articles on "the science of life."

He will ask the question, "what do we mean by life?" and, according to enthusiastic advertisements, will "answer questions that have puzzled humanity since the dawn of civilization."

There are about 1,800,000,000 human beings on earth, and nearly as many answers to "what do we mean by life?"

To a man on the Congo, life means hippopotamus meat, and fat wives.

The Wall Street man, it means rising stocks, several automobiles and yachts.

To the scientist it means a look into the whirling atom.

To the pious it means something better when this life is done.

Nobody even knows what life is, what consciousness is, whence it came, how it works.

Captain Nelson Goss, officer in the United States navy, says, "If we had to give up ships, one by one, undersea crafts should be the last ones yielded. Invisible, they present constant threat and danger to any enemy approaching our coast. We lag, while other nations modernize fleets."

Fortunately, while we officially talk about complete disarmament and naval reduction, we do go on building. The government has completed the submarine and one-layer V-4, said officially to the world's biggest.

A miniature undersea INVISIBLE BATTLESHIP, V-4 carries 76 men, seven officers and can travel 19,000 miles without refueling.

Such a submarine could visit any port on earth, unseen, unknown, until ready to deliver Uncle Sam's reply to unprovoked attack.

Britain hates submarines, greatest menace to floating commerce on which the British islands depend for food.

But the British should be glad to see this country build the biggest submarine fleet on earth.

That fleet would never attack the British, for Britain is wise, and it might help, even without being used. Knowledge that it exists and is friendly to Britain, when Britain is right, would have great influence.

The submarine, as Captain Goss says, "has become of even greater value since the modern development of aircraft, for it alone possesses a cloak of invisibility, which aircraft cannot uncover with certainty."

William Douglas, 40, another man, and two ladies were making too much noise in an apartment. Policeman Bowley, who entered, is in a hospital, badly beaten, he says, by Mr. Douglas.

The ladies are dead. Howze shot him. He held Howze's police club clutched in his hand when the police raised his body.

Police say "liquor, one of the usual drunken parties."

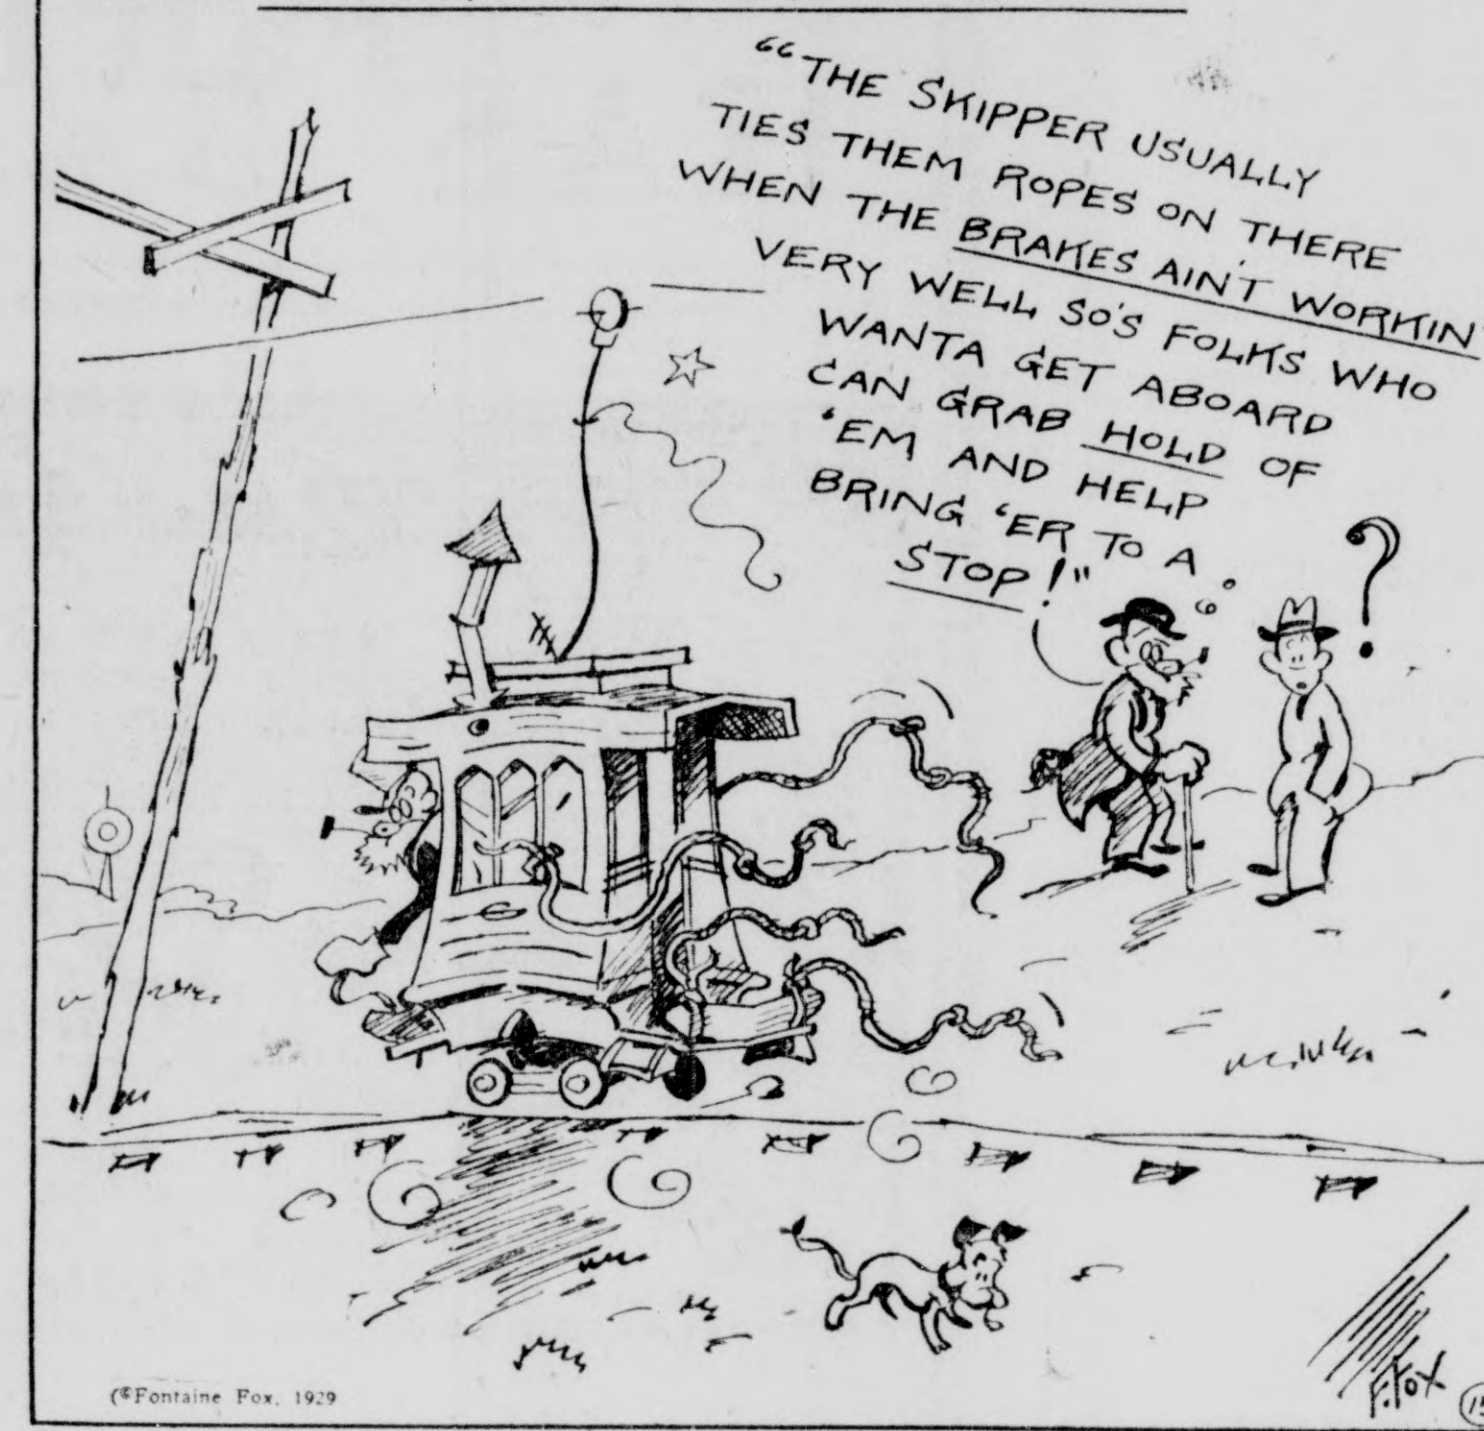

That will interest a senator who asks President Hoover, personally, to stop drinking and bootlegging in Washington.

That is too much to ask of any man. It cannot be done, except by the public conscience, which seems to move slowly.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:22. Sun rises tomorrow 6:11.

Grape farmers in New York state are shipping their grape crop into Canada where they get better prices than they do here. And we are betting those grapes are not being bought to eat either.

You cannot accomplish very much if you have to depend upon peevish people.

MY LITTLE AD
A little ad I planned and placed Within a paper's fold,
A little ad just like a lad—
Too little to be bold.
And when it left my hands I feared
That it would soon be lost,
Amid so many larger ads,
'Twould not repay its cost.

But when that little ad of mine
Appeared from off the press,
It brought to me a lot of sales,
I found with happiness.
It had a message, oh so big
And therefore I now hold
That tiny little ad of mine
Was worth its weight in gold.

There isn't very much difference between a plain crook and a fancy ornamental crook.

Late this year the government will start distilling two million gallons of whiskey and will continue this annually from now on to replace the stock in bond which has dropped to eight million five hundred thousand gallons. The government is going to see to it that the supply does not get dangerously low. Oh row-dee-dow-dow!

By the way did you notice how quickly that talk about drying Washington up and making it the driest place in the country dropped out of the public prints? If you know anything about conditions in Washington you know why.

A Harbor Bridge man tells us: "Since the Auto club put up that red light on the highway near my place, cows congregate around there to eat grass at night and my milk production is always up now. If electricity makes hens lay, why should not electricity make cows give more milk?"

A man's hearing wears out a long time before his wife's voice does.

MADE UNCLE JOE SURE
The late Joe Cannon, said to have been an easy mark for book agents, once bought a set of books on the installment plan, but learned soon afterward he had been humbugged. Writing a check for the full amount he sent it to the publishing house with this letter:

"Dear Sirs:—This check is in full payment, both legal and moral, for 60 volumes of books called for in the contract. The books are not worth a damn and are high at that. We are never too old to learn but the way your gentleman-agent put it over your Uncle Joseph is worth the check."

There are sure different kinds of people in this world. Some will come into The News office and pay for having the best kind of news items published and others will come in and beef by the hour to have rankest kind of advertising printed free. You know the kind we like to deal with.

A new bus for hauling horses has room for six horses with bedroom for the groom—of the horse of course. It also has a telephone and all conveniences and will travel at 65 miles an hour. If a thing like that hits anything except a mountain it will be the only thing not smashed.

There must be a lot in the flying business. Col. Lindbergh seems to be only one who knows all the things that go with flying. His trips from one part of the earth to the other are the wonder of the world and compared to other fliers he certainly is all there is to keeping up in the air and knowing in which direction to head the plane.

A man in Canada is suing a brewery for two thousand dollars damages because he found a piece of rubber in a bottle of it's beer and it made him lose his taste for beer. We know of birds who would not lose their taste for beer if they found a dead horse in it if they could get it in this country where they are not so particular.

At this point, my secretary, who is taking this dictation said "Thank God" but when I inquired what she meant, she excused herself and said she was thinking of something else. I merely mention this incident as a sort of "aside" I think that is the proper term to show you how exceedingly hard it is to secure secretarial persons who can concentrate on the work at hand at all times.

As I have said to you before, I have always taken a great interest in your town and your paper, although my work keeps me away from West Pennsylvannia a great deal of the time, and while here on my visit a few years ago I found a great deal of relaxation in perusing the Hints and Dints column, and enjoyed immensely and quaint items from time to time. I always especially enjoyed the letters of Mr. Joseph Bulger of Coalstown, whom I came to know personally through your kind offices, and for whom I came to have a very high regard because of his sterling qualities and rugged character. In fact I think that Mr. Bulger's letters were by far the very best part of your column.

I must look up Mr. Bulger while here, and have him to dinner. Again my secretary has broken in with the wholly ir-relevant remark "Great Heavens!" And as she evidently cannot keep her mind on her work, I will have to close.

Sincerely,
Mary Elizabeth Hale.

What's become of that long stretch of country road running up over the hill from New Castle to Pumpkinville, where close relations with the central banks of all the important countries of the world, it will advise with them and perhaps indicate to them from time to time desirable lines of policy? The GREAT FALLS TRIBUNE views the institution as "a necessary protection to international finance" and holds that "its successful operation will serve the best interests of all national involved in the World War."

It says of the method of operation: "The banks will know to what countries the money can be paid without throwing the world's economic stability off balance."

A great future is predicted by some financiers for the new bank," records the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS. "It is expected to act ultimately as a great clearing house for all nations. Perhaps it will make unnecessary any international shipments of gold. It should stimulate trade and open up new opportunities to surplus capital seeking investment. Naturally its operations continually will be under the closest scrutiny by statesmen and financiers of all nations."

Selection of the place at which the bank is to be established is a matter of some discussion, the SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS reviewing the situation with the statement: "Germany and most of its creditors favor placing the bank in a neutral city, such as Zurich or the Hague. Great Britain reportedly is holding out for London, Europe's leading financial center. The American delegates may be called on to decide this question, which is less important than arranging for the bank's management and scope of operations. Both Holland and Switzerland are easily accessible and their governments doubtless are willing to facilitate the institution's work. If placed in any great power's capital, the bank's operations would be likely to arouse jealousy elsewhere, particularly in times of stress."

The invitation extended to Jackson E. Reynolds of New York as Chairman of the committee which is meeting at Baden-Baden to arrange for the creation of the international bank for reparations and Melvin A. Taylor, another American, as a colleague of Mr. Reynolds on the committee, the proceedings are closely followed in this country. Chief interest is centered in relations between the proposed financial institution and the League of Nations. The location of the bank as a world influence also is discussed.

"The new bank will take over the work now being performed by S. Parker Gilbert, the American Agent General for Reparations. It will have a capital of $100,000,000, one-fourth paid in, and subscribed in equal proportion by Britain, Germany, France, Japan, Italy, Belgium and the United States," explains the BROOKLYN DAILY EAGLE. That paper believes that "the easy solution of controversies will probably be found by making the statutes broad enough to cover all possible functions of the new bank."

The Eagle adds: "It has been suggested that the International Bank might even go into undeveloped portions of the earth to open up new markets for German manufactures in order that Germany might pay reparations without displacing the established foreign commerce of other countries. The chief battle connected with the initiation of the bank will be fought over its location."

There is no reason to doubt that such an institution would be a great improvement over the old reparations machinery," in the opinion of the KANSAS CITY STAR, which continues: "It should provide both simpler and more efficient. But this is not merely a bank for reparations settlements. And no consideration of the Young plan can afford to ignore the general banking functions for which it also provides." The Star believes that the proposal "carries the hope of assistance to Germany in meeting her $2 annuities, for she would share in the profits on that institution. There seems to be no considerable doubt, however, whether this residual share of the profits is apt to be of any importance." The suggestion also is made that "the proposal should be much toward satisfying German pride."

To the general public, in all countries," according to the ATLANTA JOURNAL, "the most interesting and the most meaningful aspect of the bank is this, that it signifies a growing disposition to give economic freedom wider scope in diplomacy, and a steady trend toward liberal cooperation among the government and the peoples of the earth." The WORCESTER EVENING GAZETTE also offers the view: "We are not going to participate officially in the new bank."

Yet will clarify our thinking and will help some of us to avoid the folly of loose talk about "isolation," if we realize that this nation is intimately bound up with the political and economic affairs of Europe, and that no decision of major importance can be taken by the nations of the world which does not in some degree involve our national interests.

There is, however, a warning from the CHICAGO TRIBUNE that "nothing is more certain than the disinclination of the American people to fall in with a plan to enlist American finances based on confidence that when our money is involved in some degree involve our national interests." The European powers to put it over. Under the circumstances," continues the Tribune, "it is the duty of the American delegates to stand unyieldingly for the permanent divorce of the League and the bank."

Bank Of Reparations Raises New Question For America

Selection Of Two Bankers From This Country As Leaders Creates Unofficial Lines Of Cooperation As Experts Begin Sessions

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

NO DELAYS GRANTED.
An atmosphere of dignity, high traditions, wisdom approaching almost omniscience itself, and a constant even tenor, foreign to the hustle and bustle of a high-powered Democracy permeates the portion of the capitol at Washington wherein is housed the supreme tribunal of the land—the Supreme Court of the United States.

Indicative of the veneration with which that truly august body is revered is the incident which was recalled recently upon the passing of one of the court's humble attaches, John L. Woodford, colored doorkeeper at the main entrance to the Supreme Court chamber.

A brusque, burly citizen, tourist extraordinary, puffing a rank cigar and emitting a veritable barrage of smoke, brushed by the quiet, colored doorkeeper Woodford, who seized him by the arm and told him he could not smoke in that court.

Holding back the tourist gruffly demanded to know what would happen if he continued smoking. He was informed that he would be unceremoniously ejected from the chamber and thrown in jail.

"Then," said the man, "I would take an appeal."

"There is no appeal from this court!" exclaimed Woodford, dumbfounded at the bully's ignorance, "except to Almighty God!"

THE BAKED BEANS GENIUS

I sing, whatever be her name,
The woman of a lowly fame,
Whose glorious service is to cook
Without the aid of rule or book;
That rare and lovely genius who Occasionally comes to view,
That most superb of kitchen queens
Who has the knack of baking beans.

But few are upon this earth Whose dish of beans man's praise is worth.

Not hotel chef, not French cafe,
Can serve them in the proper way.
Unnumbered cooks attempt the feat:
They may have skill with fowl and meat.

With soups and all the early greens,
But few can bake a dish of beans.

Some serve pale and dainty white,
Some think a yellow tinge is right,
Some cook them after they are browned.

And then like shot they rattle round,
Others too long will let them boil,
And most contrive the beans to spoil.
But now and then upon the scene
Enters the genius of the bean.

Let others sing the voice divine
And give to art some sculptured line,
I choose a rarer gift, and one Which thrills man's soul to come upon.

Whatever her name, where'er she dwell,
I sing to her and wish her well,
Though be she old or in her teens,
Who has the knack of baking beans.

NO MAN EXISTS WHO—

Does not carry some responsibility for the welfare of the rest of us. Has not added somewhat to the burden the world bears.

Does not owe the world useful labor for the burden he imposes on it.

Has not some work to do which will not be done if he does not do it. Cannot make himself absolutely essential to the happiness of some one.

Will not find courtesy a distinct advantage under any circumstance. Has escaped the attention of his creator.

Bible Thought For Today

Evil or Good—For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved. But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.—John 3:20, 21.

Prayer:
"My soul be on thy guard."

When rising stocks drop a little it is called "profit taking." Then prices go up again as a lumb does when the ripe fruit is shaken off.

Correct this sentence: "Now you are rich and famous" said the toastmaster, "but the old crowd will keep on treating you as a pal."

Th' heavier th' pressure on th' accelerator, th' lighter th' spirits of th' undertaker.

Philanthropy: Under-paying the poor you know and thus accumulating enough to help other poor who are deserving because you don't know them.

Mr. Schwab is right about the lack of caste feeling in America. Many a millionaire is called Bill by a working class cellmate.

Pulaski Man Was First Plumber In New Castle He Tells News Man

Alex Roberts, aged 86, who has been residing in Pulaski for the past year or two, is, it happens, one of the first plumbers who ever did business in this city. In fact, he claims the distinction of being the man who made the first tap on the water system of this city, for private business purposes.

This was something like half a century ago, probably about 45 years ago, just after the water works had been completed here and the mains laid on the principal streets of the city.

This tap, the very first made, Mr. Roberts states, for a service, was to the corner now occupied by the Terminal Apothecary and was for the use of the Bleakley harness shop.

The entire connection was in lead, there being no iron pipe used for that purpose at that time.

Mr. Roberts, who had learned his trade in Cleveland, O., spent several years here as a plumber and one of the other pieces of work that he did while here was the connecting of the drinking fountain for horses in front of the Fountain Inn.

This, Mr. Roberts states, was considered quite ornamental and had a gas light at the top, which added much to its attractiveness in those days.

Leaving here, he went to Pittsburgh, where he worked for a time, then to Buffalo, N. Y., Omaha, Neb., and various other cities throughout the country.

He continued to follow his trade, in spite of his advanced age, until about three years ago, when he returned to this district, and has been residing in the Pulaski section.

Mr. Roberts is not only a plumber, but also a taxidermist, and since returning here has turned out some extremely fine specimens of the art of taxidermy, including a number of deer heads.

Mr. Roberts was born in Scotland, but has been a resident of this country practically all his life.

Paper Money Has Value! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

An ancient prejudice nursed the ignorant fear and distrust of paper money. AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE inspires the faith which completely accepts the printed obligation. In the interest of convenience and safety, its use is universal.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

Conscientious Mothers, Too Serious At Tasks, Suffer Without Need

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.
There is many a conscientious mother who has been disturbed by what she reads and hears about child rearing. She takes her job too seriously. She suffers terribly.

DR. MYERS

She reads what the expert says. He tells her what the child should eat, how much he ought to eat, how heavy and how tall he ought to be, what he ought to do alone, and how each moment in the cradle he is being made into the future man.

She goes to hear the expert speak about the dangers of repression, about the complexes and about fixations. She goes to hear herself condemned for "teaching him restraint, for expressing her affections to the child and for cultivating in him family loyalty. She also hears how she has been building up bad attitudes and habits in her child.

Begging help, she may only get a good sound scolding; looking for light she may be met by deeper darkness; seeking guidance, she may only find bewilderment. Sometimes she goes to learn and comes away to weep. Most who speak and write to parents seem to get a personal satisfaction out of telling them how bad they are, without offering them specific means of being better.

Now the parents who read most about child training and go most frequently to hear addresses on the subject are the very ones who need them least.

I have found a good many mothers who are panicky, who are worrying themselves sick, who are condemning themselves as unfit to be mothers. They have been most miserable. Among the mothers are those whose children are of school age, mothers who have not the notion that their children's destinies have already been established, that they must have done so much harm to their children in their infancy that they can never grow up as they should and that the door of hope has been forever closed.

No one of course, can deny the ease with which the habits of the little child can be cultivated; neither can it be denied that conduct can be changed, corrected, redirected at any age. You and I are learning still; continually are changing in our habits, our ideals and point of view.

In the first place you parents who are worried with yourselves are much dissatisfied and who severely condemn yourselves as failures, ought to remember that everyone who writes and speaks is human and must, therefore, be endowed with frailties; that many of them either are not parents or do not nearly measure up themselves to the standards which they set; that whereas they may excel in certain things you also may be doing sores of things much better than they do; that your complex and difficult than those they tell about and seem to solve so easily and that whatever errors you have made have not been on purpose. We parents do not try deliberately to be bad parents. "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone."

The other day somebody held a watch on President Hoover and he made a complete change of clothes in six minutes. When he retires from the presidency, he can have his choice between being a vaudeville actor and a fireman. — The Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

PETER'S ADVENTURES
AFTER THE BALL
"Of all the dances I have ever seen, today's was the prettiest one," said Buttercup, then sighed. "I should love to dance, too. I wish that I could fly away like the rest of you, but from daylight to dark I am here in the spot where I was born and the only time I even move is when the kind winds rock me gently to and fro. Being a flower has its disadvantages."

"Never mind, Butter, dear," said Sir Buttercup, "even if you can't go to your friends, your friends will all come to you, and you make them all very happy by being just your own bright, cheery self. You are so dependable, and your friends always know where they can find you."

"Which counts for a great deal," remarked Peter. "I have found that out."

"What nice things you are both saying to me," said Buttercup, in a pleased tone. "I am downright ashamed of myself. What? Must you go so soon?"

Buttercup asked the question because Sir Buttercup was already waving his wings, as he always did just before ready to sail.

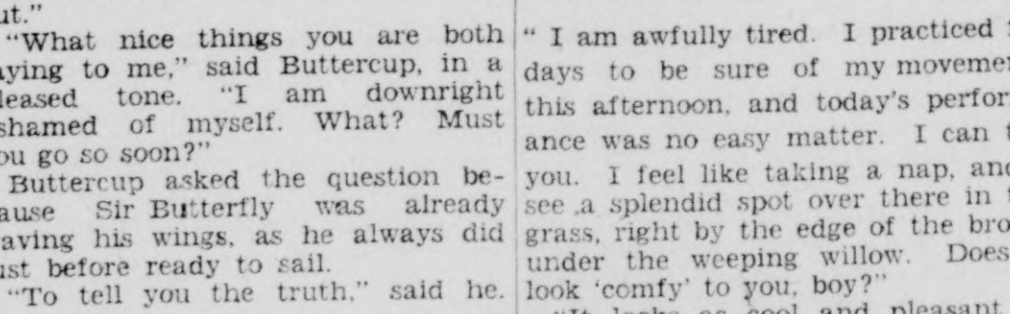

"To tell you the truth," said he, "I am awfully tired. I practiced for days to be sure of my movements this afternoon, and today's performance was no easy matter. I can tell you, I feel like taking a nap, and I see a splendid spot over there in the grass, right by the edge of the brook, under the weeping willow. Does it look comfy to you, boy?"

"It looks as cool and pleasant as can be," declared Peter, and, although I have enjoyed it immensely here with Buttercup, I think we had better go over to the place you have chosen. If you are going to sleep, perhaps Buttercup would like to take a doze herself."

"Now, that you speak of it, I am drowsy," said the flower. "Do have a drink of buttercup wine before you leave. All my friends say I am an expert at making it."

"You are that, my dear," said Sir Buttercup, his tongue trembling with eagerness, "and there isn't a bit of doubt but that the boy will agree with me."

Peter had rather a hard time of it, trying to drink from the buttercup's bowl. He wasn't used to it, you see. But Sir Buttercup unrolled his long, slim tube-like tongue, and thrust it deep into the bowl and drank of the delicious fluid that the Buttercup offered him. The boy did manage to get enough to know that it tasted good, and he thanked Buttercup heartily as he hopped upon the back of his waiting steed.

Outselling all previous Packard models

THE NEW PACKARD STANDARD EIGHT

NO CAR in Packard history has met with such instant sales success as the new series Packard Standard Eight.

August deliveries of Packard cars were greater than in any previous month. And when the new series Standard Eight models were introduced in mid-September, sales continued to increase in such gratifying degree that Packard is assured a record-breaking Fall season.

It was inevitable that today's Packard Standard Eight would win new thousands to Packard Eight ownership. This distinguished car is so outstandingly more advanced, more beautiful, more luxurious that it is already establishing itself as the most popular Packard of all time.

Improved in Engineering — Refined in Details

In the new series Standard Eight Packard has surpassed all previous achievements—both in engineering and designing—and in addition has given particular attention to the refinement of incidental comforts and conveniences.

Notable among the body refinements are improved-visor pillars; adjustable sun visors;

newly perfected shatter-proof glass; dashboard lockers; adjustable steering gear and driver's seat—together with greatly enriched fittings and upholstery.

Engineering advances include the improved powerplant with its new four-speed transmission and still further refined straight-eight motor. Packard performance—noted the world around—is greater, more brilliant than ever in the new series Standard Eight.

Packard Ownership Costs No More

We cordially invite you to see the new Standard Eights—to ride in one and drive it. You will find it luxurious beyond your expectations—and no more expensive to own than your twelve or fifteen hundred dollar car.

Operation and maintenance costs of the Packard Standard Eight are not greater because first cost is more. Even if first cost is twice as much, final cost is no greater if the Packard is driven twice as long!

Analyze ownership figures in the light of these facts and you will find that you, too, can enjoy the luxury of Packard transportation at your present motoring expense.

Thousands of motorists have found that Packard ownership costs no more. Two out of three who buy Packard Standard Eights give up other makes of cars to do so!

You are paying for a Packard—why not have one? Your old car will be accepted as cash, and you may buy out of income if you prefer.

Many Signatures Being Secured To Viaduct Petitions

Officials Of Neshannock Viaduct Association Find Public Willing To Approve

RURAL RESIDENTS FAVOR PROPOSITION

Petitions which are being circulated by the Neshannock Viaduct Association, favoring the erection of a high level bridge over the Neshannock from the top of Croton avenue hill to the end of Wallace avenue, are being readily signed by residents in all sections of the county, officials of the Association stated today.

A great number of these petitions have been placed in circulation, and more are being put out each day. Practically no opposition has been encountered to the proposed viaduct, and people seem eager to sign the petitions. Those who have the petitions in hand are very much encouraged by the support which is being given the proposed viaduct in the rural sections, farmers in general being of the opinion that it will facilitate their travel to all sections of the city.

A number of the petitions have been placed in circulation in Ellwood City and are being largely signed by residents of that place, who also feel that they will be greatly benefited thereby.

According to one of the officials of the Association, the new North street bridge which was recently thrown open for traffic has not greatly facilitated the traffic jam which follows the football games on Saturday afternoon, leading to the conclusion that another bridge is badly needed to relieve congested conditions during rush hours.

New Officers Are Installed Sunday

Sunday School Officers Of The First M. E. Church, Are Installed At Sunday Service

Sunday the following officers were installed to serve six months in the teen age department of the First M. E. Sunday school: President, William McLaughlin; first vice president, Joe Lockley; second vice president, Aileen Norris; secretary, William Wood; assistant secretary, Eleanor Blanning; treasurer, Willard Irwin; pianist, Jean Snyder; assistant pianist, Gretchen Myers; chorister, Kenneth Myers; assistant chorister, E. P. Gatrall.

The beautiful installation service was in charge of the superintendent, Mrs. J. C. B. Douthett, assisted by Rev. H. C. Weaver, the pastor. The form used was that recommended by the State Sunday School Association, used for the first time in this department.

Three retiring officers, Roger Meermans, Edward Beal and Homer Rosser, were commended for their faithfulness in attendance. Eight classes reported 100 per cent attendance and four classes were all present but one member. There are 19 classes in the department, with over 200 junior and senior high school students enrolled. Four new scholars, Harold Kuhn and Ruby Kuhn, Dorothy Gerlach, David Kimmel, Howard Kimmel, have been enrolled this month.

E. C. Grace, teacher, has a perfect attendance record for the last year. October is rally month at the teen age department and an effort is being made to have good attendance. The classes having 100 per cent attendance for four Sundays are taught by William Thomas, Mrs. William Thomas, Miss Mildred Sargent, Frank Fischer, E. C. Gatrall, Robert Meermans, Sydney Cleal, Mrs. Robert Meermans.

Councilmen Will Visit Golf Course

Several Matters In Connection With Operation To Be Considered

Councilmen soon will visit the municipal golf course to inquire into conditions relative to which Business Manager Walter Hart decides a settlement. Hart is occupying the home at the course and council has been asked to make some adjustment relative to coal, water and light bills. Hart understood, it is reported that when he accepted the position at a salary of $75 a month and the right to operate a golf concession that the city would pay for fuel, water and light, something which council desires to inquire into before deciding the question.

If Baby has COLIC

A cry in the night may be the first warning that Baby has colic. No cause for alarm if Castoria is handy! This pure vegetable preparation brings quick comfort, and can never do the slightest harm. Always keep a bottle in the house. It is the safe and sensible thing when children are ailing. Whether it's the stomach, or the little bowels; colic or constipation; or diarrhea. When tiny tongues are coated, or the breath is bad. Whenever there's need of gentle regulation. Children love the taste of Castoria, and its mildness makes it suitable for the tiniest infant, and for frequent use.

And a more liberal dose of Castoria is always better for growing children than some needlessly strong medicine meant only for adult use. Genuine Castoria always has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Prescribed by doctors!

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Three thousand girls disappear annually from New York and a majority of them are directed into white slave traffic. A recent investigation disclosed that one of the largest syndicates trafficking in girls in New York furnished women for 180 resorts. Recruiting was done largely through advertisements for young and attractive women to act as "hostesses," salaries from $35 to $50 a week being offered for "easy work." It was likewise learned that these "hostess" advertisements drew girls to New York from all over the United States, many of the clubs being cloaked with an apparent respectability likely to throw the unsophisticated off their guard.

His sun has set. His doom is sealed. His goose is cooked. Swank Fifth avenue shops and the Ooh-la-la places on West 57th street, Gotham's "Boo-de-la-Pap-and-Pay-and-Pay," are installing what they term "shop directors"—young men, college bred, with a flair for merchandising, to replace the old type of floor manager whose disability resides in the fact that he possesses a hollow where his social bump should protrude.

WOMEN EXPERTS

The ever-fascinating dispatches reveal the fact that an Ohio woman, Mrs. Ray O. Myers, has taken up embalming. One learns she won the national amateur typing championship. A champion at one thing, she proposes to be a champion at another. The expert typist is to become the expert embalmer. Just some more evidence of the melancholy fact that man, as an expert, is fading out of the picture. Man's field of supremacy is down to garden plot size.

FOR FREEDOM AND FAIRNESS

Fair minded folks will agree with Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, in his law to keep a judge from acting as "judge, legislature, prosecutor and sheriff" when he alleges that a newspaper man or anybody else has been in contempt of court. No federal judge—no other judge for that matter—should pass on a case of contempt which originated in his own court. He has been elected or appointed to be a judge, not to be a prosecutor.

Small men need titles to lean against. The weak need titles to hold them up. The strong need no titles. Personality does not need no title. The third assistant to the second vice president, with personality, may run the place.

SHORT SIGHTED

Strange that the many who frequently find fault with the outspokenness of newspapers, and their daily habit of telling the facts, do not think seriously enough to realize that the very newspapers which sometimes offend them are the high and final barriers that stand between the rank and file of the people and leaders who may and do become powerful enough to oppress them.

Building & Loan Buys Property

New Castle Mutual Takes Over D. W. Byers Property, East Street

NEW OFFICES WILL BE LOCATED THERE

Plan To Completely Revamp Building For More Expansive Quarters.

Purchase of the D. W. Byers property at 16 East street by the New Castle Mutual Building and Loan association, to be remodelled and repaired immediately and used as the permanent home of the association, was made known today.

The association's offices are at present located on the second floor at 242 1/2 East Washington street, but owing to the rapid growth of the organization during the past few years it has become necessary to seek larger quarters for the ever increasing business.

Work to Proceed. An architect is proceeding with the work today and as soon as specifications have been completed, actual renovation work will get under way. It is planned to erect a new front and remodel the interior to suit the needs of the association. It is hoped that occupancy can be made December 15.

The New Castle Mutual Building and Loan association was formed in 1887 with its assets at $11,500. After 42 years in business the association now claims $1,425,000 in assets and has 400 mortgage loans amounting to $1,375,000. During the years that it has operated it has helped thousands to thrift and home ownership. It is a mutual company and all profits go to shareholders.

The first meeting of the New Castle Mutual occurred in the basement of the First Christian church. From there headquarters were moved to the building where the New Castle Water company offices were located at South and Mercer streets. The next location was again in the New Castle Water company office when it was situated where the Union Trust company now stands. ## Arrests Expected For False Alarm

Fire Chief Charles H. Lynn stated today that he has a fairly good clue to the identity of the party who turned in a false alarm from Box 22, at the corner of Wallace and Highland avenues. Sunday afternoon at 4:45 and arrests are expected to follow in the case.

The persons who turned in the alarm was extremely bold, as Wallace and Highland is a fairly busy corner at most any hour of the day.

Report Snow And Hail During Monday Storm

Storm which passed over the city and vicinity about 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, took different forms in various sections of the city or immediately adjacent to the city.

In the central portion of the city, it took the form of a cold rain with occasional offerings of hail, while on the East Side and West Side and adjacent districts it not only hailed very hard but snowed to a considerable degree.

Following the storm, street cars came into the downtown district from the East Side, covered to a considerable extent with snow.

Automobiles coming from the Union township district were also covered to a considerable extent by snow. Apparently the fall of snow and hail was the heaviest in the Union township district, the reports from some sections being that the ground was fairly well covered with hail when the storm was over.

Sewer Worker Has Very Close Call

Workman In Pittsburgh Swept Through Sewer For Nearly Mile, Rescued

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 15.—Nick Culla, 30, is in a hospital here today recovering from the harrowing experience of being swept nearly a mile through a sewer before he was rescued.

Culla had been working on the nine-foot sewer when he fell into the rushing water below him and was carried away before his fellow workmen could reach him. He was rescued an hour later by employees of the Iron City Brewery who noticed the foot rule Culla was waving through a sewer cover near where they were working.

Enjoy Banquet Monday Evening

Covers Are Laid For Over 100 At Four County Affair

Get together meeting of the funeral directors of Lawrence, Beaver, Butler and Mercer counties held Monday afternoon and evening in this city was a success, nearly a hundred from the four counties being in attendance. Quite a number were accompanied by their wives.

At 6:30 o'clock a banquet was served in the guild room of Trinity Episcopal church, at which covers were laid for 106.

The banquet was opened with the singing of "America", after which the invocation was given by Rev. P. C. Pearson. While the banquet was in progress, T. G. Miller and Lee Merriam of Beaver Falls furnished some novel entertainment. At the conclusion, W. R. Campbell was master of ceremonies and a program was presented.

HOW LONG DO I HAVE TO REPAY MY LOAN?

Upon borrowing money, this thought always enters into the transaction: When do I pay it back, how do I pay it back, do I pay it all back at one time?

The Mahoning Plan answer is, you do not pay it all back at one time, you pay it back in small monthly payments. Said monthly payments are governed by the amount of your loan.

A $50 loan you repay at the rate of $17.50 per month for three months. Total cost of loan $52.50.

A $300 loan you repay at the rate of $27.50 per month for one year. Total cost of loan $330.

There are no extras or charges connected with our loans. WHY PAY MORE? If you repay your loan in full before the schedule time, a discount is allowed.

Vets To Complete Arrangements For Big Open Meeting

National Officers Will Be Present At Initiation Ceremonies October 23

MANY NEW MEMBERS WILL BE TAKEN IN

Final arrangements for the big open meeting and initiation which will be held Wednesday evening, Oct. 23, in Carnegie auditorium will be completed by Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at their meeting in the Legion Home Association building, Wednesday evening.

Acceptances have been received from many national and department officials of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, who will be present on the occasion and will participate in the program of the evening. In addition a fine program of entertainment will round out an evening of pleasure for those who attend.

The big feature will be the open initiation ceremony which will be a revelation to the citizens of New Castle. Nothing of its kind has ever been seen here before, and this feature has been arranged to show the people of New Castle just what the Veterans of Foreign Wars is, and what it stands for.

Rentz Is Chairman
Senior Vice Commander-in-Chief Paul C. Wolman of Baltimore, an attorney and outstanding figure in the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be the principal speaker of the evening.

Hon. Fred L. Rentz, who is the Harry L. McBride Post's only honorary member, and who has been a member of the post for a number of years, will be the chairman of the evening.

Visiting V. F. W. officials in addition to Senior Vice Commander-in-Chief Wolman, will include Pennsylvania Department Commander James E. Van Zandt, Department Adjutant J. H. West, Fred Stover, past commander-in-chief, and a member of the national council of administration of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; State Senior Vice Commander William Burbank of the department of Ohio, C. R. Haley, liaison officer of the Allegheny county council, V. F. W.; District Commander John Templeton of Sharon, and many others.

Then, in addition, there will be the famous Warren, O., degree team, which will put on the initiation ceremonies; the Warren, O., boys' band of 55 pieces, and big delegations from Warren and Youngstown, O., Butler, Sharon, Grove City, McKees Rocks, and many other surrounding places in the district.

Judges Chambers and Hildebrand, together with outstanding leaders in civic, fraternal, business and industrial affairs of the city will be special guests on the occasion.

The meeting is expected to be the biggest event in V. F. W. circles which has ever been held in western Pennsylvania.

Legion Commander Praises MacDonald And Herbert Hoover

J. L. Bodenhamer, New National Legion Head Says Permanent Peace Desired

MacDonald's Trip To United States Tamed Great Work Of Creating Good Feeling

(International News Service) TORONTO, Canada, Oct. 15.—The ultimate results sought in the recent negotiations between Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and President Hoover of equal naval strength and reduction with a guarantee of permanent peace, "are in keeping with the strongest desires of the American Legion."

In his first official address as new national commander of the American Legion, J. L. Bodenhamer Monday made this statement before the convention of the American Federation of Labor. The British labor premier was due to arrive at the convention tomorrow.

Commander Bodenhamer said that the Legion urged the construction of cruisers and destroyers to the point of equal strength with any nation on earth, "because we believe that such construction will bring parity, and that only in parity is there safety and a guarantee of continued peace."

Warm Friendship
"For the first time in history the two leaders of our English speaking peoples, the prime minister of Great Britain and the President of the United States, have met in a mutual effort to settle for all time a vexatious problem, the problem of naval protection without naval competition, to the end that war may be outlawed in fact as well as in name," said Commander Bodenhamer.

"The warm friendship and fine statesmanship of Ramsay MacDonald have awakened a responsive chord in the hearts of all Americans, and the splendid progress of his conference with our President is indicative of the sincere esteem and admiration in which he is held by our people."

"The ultimate results sought, equal naval strength and reduction with a guarantee of permanent peace, are in keeping with the strongest desires of the American Legion. This was expressed in our recent convention."

"The Legion urges the construction of cruisers and destroyers to the point of equal strength with any nation on earth because we believe that such construction will bring parity, and that only in parity is there safety and a guarantee of continued peace," said the commander.

HARLANSBURG

B. Y. P. U. CONVENTION

The B. Y. P. U. met at the Unity Baptist church. The following ministers were present: Rev. Williams of Ellwood, Rev. Lusk of Mount Zion, Rev. Carl Jones of Zion, Rev. Woodrow of New Castle and Rev. Warren of Harlansburg.

The leader of the afternoon session was Margaret Mackey. Rev. Lusk led the singing. Rev. Williams and Rev. Woodrow each gave an able address. George Cunningham and Gladys Harlan sang a duet.

Supper was served to the delegates at the homes of the town members. The evening session was led by the young people of the Unity church, conducting a regular session of the B. Y. P. U. "Showing the manner of conducting a meeting." Scripture lesson was read by the leader Evelyn Cunningham. Prayer by W. J. Eakin. Readings were given by Monas Cunningham, Bessie Boyd, Ethel Kerr, Margaret McCracken and Evelyn Hunt. Recitation by Isabel Hunt. Duet by Gladys Harlan and George Cunningham. Exercise and song by Junior Class. Recitation by Billie Ewing then the closing song.

The President then took charge of the meeting. There were many fine musical selections. Rev. and Mrs. Warren sang a duet and the orchestra played several pieces. Rev. Warren gave a talk on "Doctrine and History."

Fall's Dealings With Sinclair, Aired In Court

Prosecution Details To Jury Story Of Fall's Deal With Harry F. Sinclair

HEFLIN'S BLAST IS NOT ALLOWED

Justice Hitz Allows Teapot Dome Testimony In Face Of Objections

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The story of former secretary of interior Albert B. Fall's dealings with Harry F. Sinclair—in which $233,500 in liberty bonds changed hands—was detailed today by the prosecution to the jury that is sitting in the bribery trial of the oil plainsman.

Justice William Hitz admitted testimony relative to the Teapot Dome deal in the face of strenuous objections from the defense. Frank J. Hogan, chief defense attorney, argued it had nothing to do with the $100,000 transaction between Fall and E. L. Doheny, basis of the present case, which the government alleges was a bribe for the Elk Hills naval oil reserve.

"State Of Mind."

Owen J. Robert, for the prosecution, declared, however, it showed "state of mind" at the time the oil leases were negotiated and Hitz sided with him.

Before the jury was brought in for beginning of the day's session, Hogan brought yesterday's remarks of Senator Heflin (D) of Alabama, about the case to the court's attention. Heflin had charged Fall with feigning illness to arouse the jury's sympathy. "The statements made on the floor of the senate are an obvious tissue of lies of the most poisonous character," said Hogan. "Your honor well knows that, for you have the report of four reputable physicians appointed by yourself. Ordinarily I—nor anyone else—would pay any attention to remarks emanating from this source, but in this case the senator openly expressed the hope his words would reach the jury, and I ask your honor to interrogate them and find out if any of this speech did come to their attention."

Hogan explained he knew all references to the trail were clipped from the papers given to the "locked-up" jury, but he was apprehensive because the Heflin speech had been carried locally as a separate story in another part of the paper.

Hitz, however, assured him the Heflin blast had been removed, and the jury was brought in.

Actions speak louder than words. Thus the parent using a stick says in effect: "How dare you fail to be like me."

After Europe tells us how much of a navy we can have, the next big obstacle is Congress.

HOLD "MODEL HUSBAND" IN SLAYING OF GIRL

John E. Preston, 32, a Chicago interior decorator, left, snapped at the Wheaton, Ill., jail being questioned by Assistant State's Attorney Russell Keeney and Coroner Ishewood, following the finding of the body of Miss Agnes Johnson, 26, right, strangled to death near a weed-grown roadside at West Chicago. According to Mathilda Murphy, chum of the slain girl, Preston took the two of them for a ride and forced his attentions on them. Miss Murphy escaped and flagged a passing freight train to return to Chicago. Preston has denied the killing, declaring it to be the work of men who followed him in another machine. Inset above, is Mrs. Lillian Preston, his wife, as she stood at the entrance to the Wheaton jail while her husband was questioned. She maintained that Preston had been a "model mate."

Divorced Wife Of Charlie Chaplin Again Engaged

(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Oct. 15.—Mrs. Lita Gray Chaplin, divorced second wife of Charlie Chaplin, film comedian, and Phil Baker, stage comedian, are engaged to be married according to word received by friends in the movie colony today.

Mrs. Chaplin, mother of two children, is now in Milwaukee, Wis., on a vaudeville tour.

Baker is widely known and for many years has been in the New York Winter Garden show under direction of the Shuberts.

He met Mrs. Chaplin in Hollywood two years ago, friends said.

French Acceptance Of Naval Parley Is Lauded In London

Successful Inauguration Of Five-Power Naval Conference Is Assured

(International News Service)
LONDON, Oct. 15.—Successful inauguration of the five-power naval disarmament conference in London in January was regarded as a certainty in authoritative quarters here today, following news of the French cabinet's decision to accept the invitation tendered by Great Britain.

The French cabinet's decision means that the five powers involved are now virtually lined up in support of the conference. The United States accepted immediately, and its official acceptance has already been received by the British foreign office.

The Japanese cabinet has voted in favor of acceptance, and the favorable reply of that nation now merely awaits the sanction of the emperor.

Although no official word has yet been received of Italy's intention to participate, it is authoritatively reported Premier Mussolini and his cabinet have decided to accept and steps taken toward appointment of experts to represent Italy.

Chamber Of Commerce Directors To Meet

Election Of Vice Presidents Will Be Held At Meeting Thursday Noon

Electrical Industry Enjoying Prosperity

Frank A. Ketcham, Graybar Electric Company President Makes Statement

Electrical Companies are Enjoying High Satisfactory Volume Of Business

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor
Copyright, 1929, International News Service
NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Within the next few weeks the world will be celebrating the 50th anniversary of the invention of the incandescent lamp—in short, the anniversary of the real founding of the electrical industry. In these 50 years the electrical industry has developed into one of the four major barometers by which to judge general business conditions and prosperity.

With this as a basis, Frank A. Ketcham, president of Graybar Electric Company, distributors of electrical merchandise all over the world, was asked today to summarize and comment on the prospects of the electrical industry during the balance of the current year.

"Any increase in the business of a national distributing organization, such as that of our company, with its thousands of diversified products that go into every type of home, and into every line of business," Mr. Ketcham replied, "is a definite indication, not only of prosperity in the electrical field, but of general prosperity as well."

Business Increasing
"For that reason, I can conservatively say that our present highly satisfactory volume of business, together with that reported by other major electrical manufacturing and sales units, is a result of similar expansion of business and industry throughout the country."

That this prosperity will continue is Mr. Ketcham's confident prediction, based upon a thorough and systematic survey of current conditions.

"There are many indications," said Mr. Ketcham, "that this present prosperity will continue. I have just returned from a business trip to the Graybar offices, located in major metropolitan centers throughout the west and south. In every instance, managers reported a general increase in business that varied but little from the general volume increase we have noted here at the New York executive headquarters."

Positive Proof
"These reports are proof positive to me, based upon over twenty-five years association with the industry, that the American home in all sections of the country is enjoying, and will continue to enjoy, the greatest period of prosperity. The American householder, apparently, is demanding and is buying more electrical appliances for the household than ever before. In the same way, the American business man is demanding increasing quantities of electrical equipment for his multiplying needs."

Mr. Ketcham points out the increase buying power of the average American, with his greater acceptance of home comforts, has brought about an interesting increase of individual demand for many electrically-operated appliances.

"Electrical irons, washers, vacuum cleaners, and other useful appliances are utilitarian aids that every home can now afford," Mr. Ketcham declared. "Radios, sunshine lamps, stimulators, exercise machines, etc., are added home appliances which the prosperous American is including in his necessities.

"Business also turns to electric appliances in its constant search for greater efficiency in production and operation. New improvements are eagerly sought, and electricity is helping man power to ever-increasing volumes."

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Broadbent announce the marriage of their daughter Edith to Raymond Cox, which occurred on Thursday, October 10th.

Italian Lodge Is Largest In State

Wins Two Flags In Recognition Of Successful Drive Sponsored Here

Hanging in headquarters of local Trionfo lodge of the Ordine Fidi D'Italia, national Italian organization, are two flags, one American and one Italian, won by the local delegation at a meeting of 50 lodges of Pennsylvania in the Sheridan Square theater in East End, Pittsburgh, on Sunday.

The meeting was held primarily for the observance of a Columbus program and the presentation of the flag to the New Castle organization was but a feature of the program of the afternoon.

The national organization recently sponsored a membership campaign throughout this state, and offered to the branch which signed the greatest number of members an American and German flag. It was for this reason that the Trionfo delegation returned with the flags.

Thirty members of the local party attended from here. Included were the president or Venerabile, A. Costa; assistant venerabile, Mrs. A. Conti; ex-venerabile, F. Cardillo; orator, William Del Rossi, and trustee, Frank Gillett. Other officers were also in the party.

Individual recognition was made of P. Volpe, secretary of the New Castle branch, and Mrs. C. Rossi, who were most active in the recent membership campaign when the lodge's members were increased in number from 250 to 400. Volpe was presented a typewriter and Mrs. Rossi a diamond ring with the emblem of the lodge on it.

The local organization now is the largest of any in the state.

More and More Colds Treated Externally

Growing Demand For Vicks VapoRub Compels Another Increase In Famous Slogan

A generation ago, when Vicks VapoRub was originated, the idea of treating colds without "dosing" was almost unheard of. Today more and more colds are treated externally, and the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

As a result, the demand for Vicks has increased so rapidly that it is again necessary to change its familiar slogan. First announced when Vicks reached "17 Million Jars Used Yearly," this famous slogan was raised to "21 Million" a short time ago. Once more the figure has been outgrown, as there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly" in the United States alone.

Mothers of young children especially appreciate Vicks, because there's nothing to swallow and, of course, nothing to upset delicate stomachs, as "dosing" is so apt to do. Just rubbed on this modern vaporizing ointment acts through the skin like a poultice or plaster, and at the same time it gives off medicated vapors which are inhaled direct to the inflamed air passages.

Year after year the popularity of Vicks has spread all over the world until it is now the family standby for all colds—adults' as well as children's—in more than 60 countries.

Past Presidents Meet Wednesday

New Castle Circle No. 5 Is Ready For Big Program On Wednesday

With everything completed for a big night, the past presidents session as arranged to be held Wednesday evening, by New Castle Circle, No. 5, Protected Home Circle, promises to be one of the big hits of the season, given by this organization.

Invitations have been extended all past presidents available, during the 43 years existence of the circle and a record breaking attendance of the members and past presiding officers are looked for at this meeting.

An excellent but brief program will be offered by the guardians of the circle. A lunch will also feature the session. Honoring the past presidents of years gone by, supreme officers and district circles will add their presence to the meeting, which will be called to order at 7:30 o'clock.

The committee in charge have been making efforts to make the event one long to be remembered and earnestly request officers and members to be in the circle chamber, Malta Hall, at the stroke of the gavel.

LILLIE B. JONES,
Secretary.

OLDSMOBILE PROVIDES PRESSURE LUBRICATED PISTON PINS

A feature characteristic of high-priced cars . . . . .

Here the piston wall has been cut away to show the piston pin. To this vital point of wrist-like action, where reciprocating parts move thousands of times a minute, Oldsmobile forces oil through the rifle-drilled connecting rod.

Incorporated in the construction of Oldsmobile's big 62-horsepower engine are many features which have long been considered marks of high quality in automobile power plants.

Piston pins, for example, are pressure lubricated through connecting rods which are rifle-drilled throughout their entire length. Serving as connections between rods and pistons, the pins act constantly as bearing surfaces under great strain. The stress imposed by compression and combustion is enormous, and, to assure smoothness and long life, piston pins must be perfectly lubricated. And the only positive method of lubrication is by direct pressure from the oil pump through crankshaft and connecting rods. According to specifications shown in the July issue of "Motor," only twelve makes of cars, in addition to Oldsmobile linestrainer, and crankcase ventilation.

These and many other advantages characterize Oldsmobile as a thoroughly fine motor car. Come in today and examine the car. Drive it yourself. Discover to your own satisfaction how much Oldsmobile's fine-car construction contributes to the excellence of Oldsmobile's performance.

JUDGE ASSERTS BOOZE BUYERS GUILTY, ALSO

Federal Grand Jury Given Unusual Instructions In Kentucky Court

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 15.—The purchaser of liquor is subject to indictment under the present prohibition laws, Federal Judge Charles I. Dawson told a grand jury impaneled in his court Monday.

The jurors were told not to hesitate to return indictments against a buyer. "Don't feel hamstrung by any fear of hampering the government in indicting purchasers," the judge said. "They haven't given us a particle of assistance in prosecution of cases."

Not a single purchaser of liquor, outside of undercover men has given assistance in the prosecution of a bootlegger in the western district of Kentucky during the four years he has been on the bench, Judge Dawson asserted.

On the other hand "these citizens who talk about 'my bootleggers' encourage others to violate the law by selling it."

He told the jury that the Second District Circuit Court of Appeals has held that a purchaser in violation of the law.

to plans and drawings already made or hereafter to be made by the engineers of the department of municipalities of the state. The plan for Gaston park has already been made and the other parks, with the exception of the park along the Neshannock on Croton avenue will be made by the state engineers. The plan for the Croton park was made gratuitously by John Wilson, a local young man and a landscape engineer of established reputation.

Question No. 2. The building of a complete new system of main trunk sanitary sewers, according to plans prepared by Fuller and McClinch, sanitary engineers of New York City.

Question No. 3. The building of the first and most necessary units of a storm sewer system according to plans prepared by Fuller and McClinch.

Question No. 4. To provide a fund for paving dirt streets, and to develop a system of main highways thru and about the city to relieve traffic congestion and to expedite traffic and make it safe. The plan to be followed is that prepared by Morris Knowles Incorporated of Pittsburgh.

Question No. 5. The completion of the widening of the Neshannock river and the improvement of it so as to prevent all flooding of the downtown districts. The plan for this work was prepared by C. H. Milholland and R. Winthrop Pratt of Cleveland. The city has already spent more than $200,000 on this project and the work is more than half done.

The next thing that seems to concern the average voter is the probable or possible cost of the bond issue. It is impossible to determine the exact cost, for that will depend largely on several factors, viz: The time the bonds are issued, the period over which they will mature, the growth of the city, the changes in assessed values because of that growth and several other factors. But it is possible to tell the maximum cost and that satisfies most people. If they are satisfied with the greatest cost, any saving or lessening of the cost is just more than they expected.

In the first place, none of the bonds could be issued before the summer of 1930, so that there would be no tax levy in any event, to pay the bonds or interest on them until 1931. All of the work could not be done in one year and it is contemplated that it will be extended over a period of five years. The bonds could therefore be issued over a like period and the cost in any one year would be materially lessened in that way. If the bonds were all issued in one year, they would perhaps be for 30 years, with maturities commencing in 1938. But if they were issued over a period of five years, the cost of redemption and interest would be spread over 35 years instead of 30.

There will be a new triennial assessment at the end of each three years during the life of the bonds. The assessed valuation of the city at this assessment is 57 millions. Thirty years ago it was very much less and it is to be hoped, and I believe expected, that by 1960 the assessed valuation will be far in excess of 57 million. The more property there is to tax, the less will be the share, i. e. the tax levy, on any one property.

Nevertheless, I have prepared a schedule based upon the assumption that the bonds might all be issued in 1930, maturing in 30 years, with a tax levy to be raised on the present assessment. If the period of time for which the bonds run is extended, the levy will decrease. If the assessed valuation in the city increases at any of the ten triennial assessments before the bonds are paid, that too will decrease the levy necessary to pay the required amount of money in any year.

I have calculated on the assumption that $150,000 would be retired in 1936; $40,000 each year thereafter until 1951; and $50,000 each year thereafter. This plan would equalize the amounts to be raised in each year of the 30.

I find that from 1931 to 1935 inclusive it would be necessary to raise each year by taxation $91,250. On the present assessment of 57 million, this would necessitate a tax levy of 1.60 mills, which means $1.60 on every thousand, so that the property owner whose house was assessed at $5,000 would have to pay in taxes $8 in each of these years. The levy for parks would be 12.2c per thousand; on Neshannock creek improvement, 19.2c; on storm sewers, 25.6c; on streets, 44.8c, and on sanitary sewers, 57.8c.

I have found that the average home in the city is assessed at about $5,000, so that I have adopted that figure as a unit, solely for the purpose of making more clear to the average homeowner what the cost of bonds will be to him. When I speak of the number of dollars assessment on the thousand, you should multiply that by five to get the cost to the average owner. If you know your own assessment, you should multiply my figures by the number of thousands of dollars of assessment which you yourself enjoy.

The highest levy would come in 1936, when $93,900 would have to be raised and the levy would be respectively: For the total issue 1.65, for parks .135, for the creek .203, for storm sewer, .270, for streets .473, and for sanitary sewers .508. In the last year, 1967, if the same assessment of $97 million, it would be necessary to raise $52,450, and the levy would be for the items as before set out respectively: .92, .074, .111, .148, .259, and .333.

It should be remembered that the city now has an indebtedness of about a million dollars and that taxes have to be paid each year for several years to pay off this old indebtedness. Before these bonds can be issued, that old indebtedness will be reduced $1,025,000 and each year thereafter some of these old bonds will mature and be paid off, so that the amounts now

Commission Orders Probe Into Matter Of Extra-Charging

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—An investigation of the railroad practice of charging extra fares, in addition to the regular prescribed railroad and Pullman fares, was ordered today by the interstate commerce commission. It will include nearly all the railroads of the country.

POSSIBLE COST TO TAXPAYERS PRESENTED BY CITY SOLICITOR

to plans and drawings already made or hereafter to be made by the engineers of the department of municipalities of the state. The plan for Gaston park has already been made and the other parks, with the exception of the park along the Neshannock on Croton avenue will be made by the state engineers. The plan for the Croton park was made gratuitously by John Wilson, a local young man and a landscape engineer of established reputation.

Question No. 2. The building of a complete new system of main trunk sanitary sewers, according to plans prepared by Fuller and McClinch, sanitary engineers of New York City.

Question No. 3. The building of the first and most necessary units of a storm sewer system according to plans prepared by Fuller and McClinch.

Question No. 4. To provide a fund for paving dirt streets, and to develop a system of main highways thru and about the city to relieve traffic congestion and to expedite traffic and make it safe. The plan to be followed is that prepared by Morris Knowles Incorporated of Pittsburgh.

Question No. 5. The completion of the widening of the Neshannock river and the improvement of it so as to prevent all flooding of the downtown districts. The plan for this work was prepared by C. H. Milholland and R. Winthrop Pratt of Cleveland. The city has already spent more than $200,000 on this project and the work is more than half done.

The next thing that seems to concern the average voter is the probable or possible cost of the bond issue. It is impossible to determine the exact cost, for that will depend largely on several factors, viz: The time the bonds are issued, the period over which they will mature, the growth of the city, the changes in assessed values because of that growth and several other factors. But it is possible to tell the maximum cost and that satisfies most people. If they are satisfied with the greatest cost, any saving or lessening of the cost is just more than they expected.

In the first place, none of the bonds could be issued before the summer of 1930, so that there would be no tax levy in any event, to pay the bonds or interest on them until 1931. All of the work could not be done in one year and it is contemplated that it will be extended over a period of five years. The bonds could therefore be issued over a like period and the cost in any one year would be materially lessened in that way. If the bonds were all issued in one year, they would perhaps be for 30 years, with maturities commencing in 1938. But if they were issued over a period of five years, the cost of redemption and interest would be spread over 35 years instead of 30.

There will be a new triennial assessment at the end of each three years during the life of the bonds. The assessed valuation of the city at this assessment is 57 millions. Thirty years ago it was very much less and it is to be hoped, and I believe expected, that by 1960 the assessed valuation will be far in excess of 57 million. The more property there is to tax, the less will be the share, i. e. the tax levy, on any one property.

Nevertheless, I have prepared a schedule based upon the assumption that the bonds might all be issued in 1930, maturing in 30 years, with a tax levy to be raised on the present assessment. If the period of time for which the bonds run is extended, the levy will decrease. If the assessed valuation in the city increases at any of the ten triennial assessments before the bonds are paid, that too will decrease the levy necessary to pay the required amount of money in any year.

I have calculated on the assumption that $150,000 would be retired in 1936; $40,000 each year thereafter until 1951; and $50,000 each year thereafter. This plan would equalize the amounts to be raised in each year of the 30.

I find that from 1931 to 1935 inclusive it would be necessary to raise each year by taxation $91,250. On the present assessment of 57 million, this would necessitate a tax levy of 1.60 mills, which means $1.60 on every thousand, so that the property owner whose house was assessed at $5,000 would have to pay in taxes $8 in each of these years. The levy for parks would be 12.2c per thousand; on Neshannock creek improvement, 19.2c; on storm sewers, 25.6c; on streets, 44.8c, and on sanitary sewers, 57.8c.

I have found that the average home in the city is assessed at about $5,000, so that I have adopted that figure as a unit, solely for the purpose of making more clear to the average homeowner what the cost of bonds will be to him. When I speak of the number of dollars assessment on the thousand, you should multiply that by five to get the cost to the average owner. If you know your own assessment, you should multiply my figures by the number of thousands of dollars of assessment which you yourself enjoy.

The highest levy would come in 1936, when $93,900 would have to be raised and the levy would be respectively: For the total issue 1.65, for parks .135, for the creek .203, for storm sewer, .270, for streets .473, and for sanitary sewers .508. In the last year, 1967, if the same assessment of $97 million, it would be necessary to raise $52,450, and the levy would be for the items as before set out respectively: .92, .074, .111, .148, .259, and .333.

It should be remembered that the city now has an indebtedness of about a million dollars and that taxes have to be paid each year for several years to pay off this old indebtedness. Before these bonds can be issued, that old indebtedness will be reduced $1,025,000 and each year thereafter some of these old bonds will mature and be paid off, so that the amounts now necessary to pay on them will be no longer necessary and the millage for the sinking fund each year will be reduced thereby. Formerly the city did not issue serial bonds and the sinking fund had to be kept growing against the 1937 when an issue of bonds would mature, but several years ago the city began to issue bonds in series and at least one of these begins to mature in 1930. As those bonds are paid off, the interest on the issue decreases and each year the tax levy can be lessened by the amount of the decreased interest.

There will be a new triennial assessment at the end of each three years during the life of the bonds. The assessed valuation

Chicago Officers Hope To Clear Up McSwiggin's Death

Arrest Of Frank Biege, Alleged Capone Executioner Is Announced

SUSPECT'S WIFE THREATENED "AL"

Did Biege Kill State's Attorney McSwiggin? Police Are Interested

By FRANCIS F. HEALY
International News Service Staff
CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Who killed Billy McSwiggin and why? Also, who killed cock robin?
This age-old puzzle—one which police have attempted to solve since Assistant State's Attorney William McSwiggin met death in a gangland roadhouse several years ago, was again the leading question today following the arrest and interrogation of Frank Biege, alias Perry, who is termed by police as "chief executioner for scumcap Al Capone."

"Machine Gun" Jack McGurn was also called that. So were a host of others.

Scoffs At Idea
Thee "inside office" was said today to have some special "dope" on the activities of Biege but chief of detectives John Stege scoffed at the idea Biege was the killer of McSwiggin. "Bugs" Moran's men, and other gangsters.

"All he has is a reputation as a petty stickup man," said Stege. "If this bird had been doing as much monkey business with machine guns as some of these coppers think he did, we would have known all about him long ago. Sure he may know a lot about gangland killers. So do I. But, have you ever heard of one of these birds cracking yet? They don't."

Wrote Threat Letters
Biege's wife wrote two threatening letters to Capone in a Philadelphia prison, both of which were intercepted. She demanded $10,000 for "hush money" or threatened that Biege, whom she said was "holding the bag," would "squawk."

"I'm asking you for the last time for that ten thousand and get it to us fast," read the last letter in part. "Frank's sick of you leaving him to hold the bag. You kick across or Frank will go to police and spill the works. Remember, everything."

Frank is now arrested and has been grilled by the best "grillers" in the state's attorney's office and he hasn't spilled or "squawked" or "cracked" or given any intimation that he is conversant with any gangland activities. He failed to avail himself of this "golden opportunity." Nor did Frank get the $10,000 from Capone.

"You know," said Stege philosophically, "how these cheap stickup guys are. They make a big noise with the muzzus about just how big they are when they've pulled a minor tick-up and she gets all 'het up' and thinks he's a big shot."

Big Shots Don't Squawk.
"If he was a big shot, don't worry, he wouldn't crack to anyone, least of all his wife, because you know how those dames can talk when they get sore."

"You never heard of Capone talking to Teresa, did you? (That's Capone's wife.)"

"Well, who killed Billy McSwiggin and why, is something I don't think we'll know for a long, long time."

STIRRED BY NEW SHEPPARD BILL

so drastic that "the country won't stand for it."

The wets are split equally wide open—some cynically hoping that the measure will pass because they sincerely believe it will "kill prohibition," and others contending that it will merely extend the "evils of the present system."

The Constitutionalists of the Senate merely reflect the patchwork of divergent opinion. Their opinions were sought and obtained by International News Service today and disclosed some unusual differences.

Very Close Question
"It is a very close question," said Senator William H. Borah (R) of Idaho, who is a dry among dries, referring to the constitutionality of the measure.

"Congress naturally cannot go beyond the constitution, but the constitution prohibits the sale of liquor and there cannot be a sale without a purchaser. It is a very close question, indeed. Undoubtedly, the Supreme court will have to pass on it."

"I think it is constitutional," said Senator Thomas J. Walsh (D) of Montana, another outstanding dry.

"It would be a means of preventing the sale of liquor which the constitution forbids."

"After all Congress is authorized to pass any legislation which is necessary to prevent the sale of alcoholic liquors. If Congress believes that a specific act, making it illegal to purchase liquor, would help prevent its sale, then such an act in my opinion would be constitutional. The man who buys liquor is aiding in making a sale and therefore can be punished."

King Gives Views
A directly opposite view was taken by Senator King (D) of Utah, another constitutionalist of the Senate, and also a dry.

"I have very serious doubts as to the constitutionality of such a law as Senator Sheppard proposes," said King. "Congress cannot create crimes. It can only act under the powers granted it by the constitution. To make the purchase of liquor illegal would undoubtedly create a new crime. I do not believe Congress has that power."

Number of other senators, both wet and dry, evaded expressing an opinion publicly on the matter, but their opinions, privately expressed, disclosed a wide range of disagreement.

Undisturbed by the clamor, Senator Sheppard is going ahead with his plans to force a show-down on his bill as early in December as possible.

"It will pass," he said confidently. "It will pass, and it will be the cap-sheaf of prohibition."

Not a few of his dry colleagues fear that it will prove the proverbial last straw—but they are saying so in private and not in public. Meanwhile, both sides are closely observing the rise of public opinion.

It may be hard for the scrub to sit on the sidelines, but he might console himself with the thought that the regulars get all the breaks.—The Bay City Daily Times.

Dr. Helen T. Woolley.

Even a three-month-old baby needs a job, says Dr. Helen T. Woolley, director of the Child Development Institute of Teachers college, Columbia university, New York. She explains that the special job of the wee babe is to learn to distinguish the faces of his parents from those of strangers, to discover its own tiny body and its surroundings. Dr. Woolley directs an experimental school for children of the well to do whose age range is from eighteen months to four years. Before going to Columbia, Dr. Woolley was psychologist at the Merrill Palmer school, Detroit.

SHELF, MIRROR USE WASTE SPACE

Mirrors, which give the illusion of additional space, and shelves, which increase the actual amount of room available, are being used in interesting ways to make the most of shallow and commonplace spaces. In the illustration a narrow passageway between bedroom and bath has been cleverly converted into a dressing room by simply equipping one shallow, recessed wall with mirrors, corner shelves and cabinets. The vanity table thus created is balanced on the opposite wall by a wardrobe closet with full-length door mirror.

Planes Banned At Football Contests

(International News Service)
INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 14.—Airplanes hovering low over football gridirons might seriously interfere with the chances of one or other of the teams playing, according to a complaint sent to Attorney General James M. Ogden of Indiana by Dr. Edward C. Elliott, president of Purdue university.

Dr. Elliott also said that pilots are endangering spectators at football games through their desire to obtain a close view of the moleskin struggles and asked Ogden what legal relief was possible to curb the danger.

Ogden informed him that two Indiana laws would apply. One imposes a maximum fine of $500 and one year's imprisonment for flying so close as to endanger lives and property and another establishes fines from $5 to $50 for interrupting or disturbing any public meeting.

The term, "public meeting," would embrace a football game, according to Ogden.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Story Of The World War
140—Obtaining Artillery And Machine Guns

ON ENTERING THE WORLD WAR THE UNITED STATES ARMY FOUND ITSELF WOEFULLY LACKING IN MODERN FIELD GUNS. THERE WERE NOT NEARLY ENOUGH TO GO ROUND, NOT EVEN FOR TRAINING PURPOSES, AND IN SOME OF THE CAMPS THE ARTILLERYMEN HAD TO DRILL WITH WOODEN DUMMY GUNS. THE WORK OF DEVELOPING A NEW AMERICAN 3-INCH GUN WAS BEGUN, BUT THIS PIECE WAS NOT READY UNTIL AFTER THE WAR. LUCKILY FOR US, OUR NEED OF GUNS COULD BE MET FROM ANOTHER QUARTER.

BY THE TIME WE ENTERED THE WAR, THE FRENCH HAD PRODUCED ENOUGH FIELD PIECES FOR THEIR OWN NEEDS, AND THEIR ARTILLERY PLANTS POSSESSED SUFFICIENT SURPLUS CAPACITY TO SUPPLY THE AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCE WITH GUNS. AS A RESULT OUR FIELD ARTILLERY IN FRANCE USED THE FRENCH 75 MILLIMETER GUN, THE BEST OF ITS CLASS, AND THE 155 MM. GUN.

HAVING ONLY A SMALL NUMBER OF MACHINE GUNS, AND THESE OF OBSOLETE DESIGN, WHEN WE WENT TO WAR, THE UNITED STATES HAD TO PURCHASE A SUPPLY OF THESE VITALLY IMPORTANT WEAPONS FROM THE ALLIES. THROUGHOUT THE WAR THE AMERICAN FORCES USED MACHINE GUNS OF FOREIGN MAKE, CHIEFLY THE FRENCH "HOTCHKISS" (SHOWN ABOVE) AND THE BRITISH "LEWIS." THE LATTER BEING THE INVENTION OF AN AMERICAN.

AFTER A SERIES OF TESTS HELD IN MAY, 1917, THE UNITED STATES ARMY ADOPTED THE BROWNING MACHINE GUN, WHICH PROVED TO BE SUPERIOR TO THOSE USED BY OTHER ARMIES. HOWEVER, IT TOOK A LONG TIME TO ERECT PLANTS AND INSTALL SPECIAL MACHINERY FOR TURNING OUT THE NEW WEAPON, AND THE WAR ENDED BEFORE WE COULD REPLACE ALL OUR FOREIGN-MADE MACHINE GUNS WITH "BROWNING'S".

Three-Run Rally In Ninth Inning Gives Macks Game

Single, Home Run, And Two Doubles Give Athletics Fourth And Final Game

PAT MALONE LOSES TOUGH LUCK GAME

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Philadelphia, Oct. 15.—Philadelphia fighting Athletics rallied in the ninth inning to win the championship of the world yesterday afternoon over the Chicago Cubs with a three-run rally in the ninth inning that drove the populace into hysterics.

The final score was 3 to 2 and when Simmons scored from second base with the winning run on Miller's long double to the score-board, Shibe Park became a mad house.

President At Game

The game that gave Philadelphia its championship with four victories out of five games was witnessed by President and Mrs. Hoover and previously the crowd had been asked over the loud speaker to remain in the stands until the Presidential party had left the park.

They might as well have asked this crowd to go jump off city hall tower in a body, once this great uprising had been achieved.

On Saturday a depressing defeat was turned into a glorious victory with a record total of 10 runs in the seventh inning. Today the Athletics went down to the ninth before they furnished their melodramatics. They had been shut out for 8 consecutive innings with only two hits by Pat Malone's master pitching. In seven of these eight innings, they had been retired in order. And when French, batting for Walberg, struck out to open the ninth, the end seemed inevitable.

Unexpected Finish

However, the end had seemed inevitable on Saturday when a certain gentleman by the name of Haas came to the plate Saturday with the A's 7 runs behind. On that occasion he hit a homer which Wilson lost in the sun, three runs scoring. And it was late that Mr. Haas was to take his place at the plate before yesterday's drama was done.

Preceding Haas to the plate was little Max Bishop who hadn't hit the size of his cap in this series. This time he hit a single down the left field line. Haas, the hero of Saturday, was approaching the plate.

He took a ball then a strike. The next one was a fast ball inside.

At least it would have been a fast ball if it had got inside. Haas met it with his bat and changed it into a fast ball outside, outside the park.

It sailed on a line over the right field wall and the score was tied.

Cochrane furnished the second out on a smash to Hornsby. And then the crowd exhorted Simmons, demanding another homer. He almost obliged, at that. He hit a curve ball high and far to the scoreboard for two bases and the winning run of the game and of the series was ready to score.

Chicago strategy then called for an additional pass to Fox but they decided to pitch to Miller and the latter promptly welcomed the move with a rousing drive to right center for two bases, and the series was over.

Was Glorious Series

It was a series gloriously won and easily lost.

Yes, the Cubs were ultra-game. They had been badly disconcerted by the events of Saturday yet they came out today and played a game of ball for 8 innings, that few teams could lick. Furthermore they had the satisfaction of running Howard Ehmke, hero of the first game, right out of the park. This happened in the fourth inning when Cuyler's double to right was followed by a pass to Stephenson and singles by Grimm and Taylor, scoring both of the Cub runs. Behind the kind of pitching Malone was furnishing this looked like a safe lead. But nothing is safe in Philadelphia these days and safety must run for Mrs. Sweeney's husband.

For this maddened crowd which refused to leave the park for a half hour after the game gave every indication of making high carnival over Connie Mack's first world series victory since 1913. The players themselves were bereft of all reason. As Haas' home run dropped beyond the fence they rushed out to the plate and virtually carried him to the dug-out. When Simmons' double sailed to the score board, they rushed out to the base line, mouthing incoherently and waving their arms in a demented frenzy. And when Miller came through with his pinch double, reason departed and chaos reigned. Simmons was lifted in the arms of the players, others ran to Miller and almost pounded him to a pulp in their enthusiasm.

Eddie Collins and Kid Gleason joined hands and did a buck dance. They were not as graceful as Fokina and Fokina. The frenzied crowd was on the field by this time and had the winning team in their arms. It was a scene of wild disorder, comparable only to Pittsburgh in 1925 and to Washington the year before.

Fanned 50 Cubs

Only the master chess man, Connie Mack, was missing in this display of unbridled emotionalism. Self contained as always, he had smiled that wintry smile of his and disappeared toward the sanctuary of the club office. The winning of a world series was a tremendous novelty to the players and to the new generation of fans. But the staid dignified Connie Mack it was an old, old story that simply happened to be repeated. There was so much credit for this remarkable victory that much of it could be given to Rube Walberg without taking any from any other deserving candidates. Walberg relieved Ehmke after Taylor's single in the fourth and for the rest of the game, mowed the Cubs down like so much wheat. After fanning Malone for the third out of the inning, he retired the Cubs in order in the fifth, sixth and seventh, and finished the game with a record of strike out, making 50 Cubs in all who fanned during the five days, a world series record.

In other words, there were only two innings to this ball game, the Cubs fourth and the Athletics ninth, but these were quite enough to win and lose it.

Cubs Hits Wasted

Wilson singled to open the second but got nowhere, while Malone doubled in the third and languished on third base while McMillan and English were being eliminated. After a big fourth, no Cub reached base until the 8th when McMillan singled and stole second. But English, Hornsby and Wilson could do nothing about it. Neither could Grimm or Taylor after Stephenson had singled to left.

As for the ultimate winners, they looked the part of sure losers for 8 innings, Simmons opened the second with a single but Hornsby nipped Fox's liner with one hand and a double play resulted. Cuyler made a fine catch against the right field fence off Simmons to start the fifth after which Hornsby bunted Fox's grounder and Miller singled. However, the courageous Malone had too much for Dykes and Boley. He had too much for Simmons and Fox too, after Cochrane had been passed to open the seventh, in fact, he had too much all the way into the ninth. Then he found he had too little. But that's baseball.

Maxie Strub Stops Hackley In Second

Right To Temple Followed By Right To Chin Ends Bout

HEIGHT AND REACH HELP ERIE BATTLER

By ED. FRITZ

The biggest pugilistic upset that has been recorded at Jolly Bowl, and perhaps one of the most surprising in lightweight ranks, occurred here last night when Maxie Strub of Erie knocked out Jimmy Hackley of Indianapolis in the second round of a bout scheduled to go 10 chapters.

A straight right to the temple staggered Hackley in the second round and he swayed to the left. As his body swayed back Strub sent over another straight right that struck Hackley on the point of the chin. He fell heavily and his head struck the floor. He lay, cold as ice, while Referee George Chip tolled off the 10 seconds. His body was rigid and it was fully five minutes before the Hoosier battler who has engaged in 199 fights without ever being knocked out, was fully restored to his senses.

Before the fight Hackley men would probably have bet their overcoat that Hackley would capture the bout, but once the bell rang it was seen that the big, tall Erie battler's height and reach would prove a serious factor.

In the first round Strub pumped a straight left into Hackley's face and Jimmy, somewhat shorter, had all of his leads for the head blocked until near the close of the round, when he landed once or twice. He got in a few hooks to the body.

Realizing that Strub, a splendid boxer, intended to fight at long range, Hackley decided to crowd Strub and rushed inside. He sent a vicious right uppercut sailing up that hit Strub on the chin, but the Port City fighter was not hurt by the blow.

Beginning of End

Strub cut open with more speed in the second round, and while Hackley kept step with the Erie fighter, he could not land and his nose started to bleed. Suddenly Maxie landed a right to the temple and it really was the beginning of the end.

The punch set Hackley dizzy and he swayed to the left. As he kept his feet and swayed back, Maxie shot a deadly right to the chin and down went Hackley and he was counted out in one of the quickest and most surprising knockouts delivered here.

There is no question but that Strub's height and long reach paved the way for his victory over Hackley, who floored Tony Herrera and gave him one of his closest fights.

After the fight Hackley felt the defeat keenly. "I've travelled the ring for a long time, but this was the first time I have been knocked out," he quipped. He believed that the fight he did not believe that Maxie's height would be a barrier to a victory for him.

Jimmy has boxed every good featherweight, junior lightweight and some of the best lightweights in the country, but last night he was outclassed. He was like a baby in the hands of Strub, who won because he was so good and not because Hackley was so bad.

Some of the fans did not like the quick finish, but when Maxie Strub is in the ring they can expect anything. He has stopped Paris Cangey, beat Tommy Crawley, kayoed Howard Mitchell and walloped Sammy Lupica in the last few weeks.

Maxie has lost only one fight on decisions since he entered the ring and Hackley has been one of the outstanding boxers for some time. However, when west met east last night it was all over in less than six minutes actual fighting time.

Lots of Action

The first four bouts on the card were all tight. There was action every minute and it is likely that the whirlwind of punches in the preceding chapters took away the edge of the main bout, which went on about 10 o'clock.

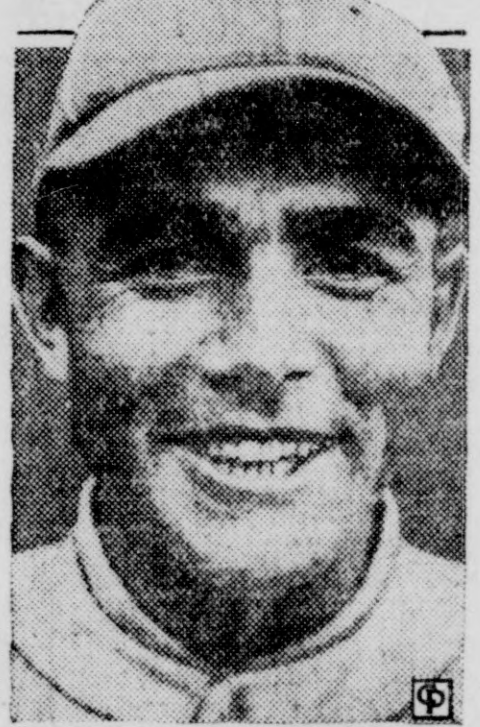

Ray Van Hook of Detroit, a youngster, fought the veteran Jack Hernandez, alias Jimmy Davis, formerly of Philadelphia, but now in Strub's stable at Erie. The decision was given to Van Hook, who captured the fans' fancy by his rushing tactics.

The decision would have been more pleasing had it been called a draw or given to the colored boxer, but he held and roughed during the bout, and no doubt the officials took this into consideration.

Terrence O'Roy, Norfolk, Va., and Charlie Adams, Cleveland, featherweights, fought a good six-round preliminary and the battle was termed a draw. Adams floored O'Roy with a straight against the Grovers, Beede will

Cubs Dejected On Trip Home

Chicago Cubs Are Not In Very Jovial Mood As They Start Back To Chicago

KICKED SERIES AWAY IS BELIEF

By JIMMY CORCORAN, International News Service Special Correspondent.

ABOARD CUBS TRAIN, Oct. 15.—Sunday school is over and the boys are going home.

The slow music of the rails has beaten its requiem into the heads of the Athletics who wheeled into the world series not so many days ago.

The Cubs are not particularly proud of the job they have done, nor are they looking for sympathy.

The world series as far as they are concerned is over, today they become private citizens and probably the less said about that pastime the better, because the Bruins are not in a jovial mood.

It isn't especially pleasant to be traveling over 90 miles with the vanquished. We believe that you don't have to be told that, for the Cubs relished their victories. In defeat they are not so pleasant. They had looked forward to this world series for weeks. And then when it came they fumbled with the goal in sight.

The Athletics aren't blaming anything in particular. They couldn't do that and get away with it. But they are decidedly piqued at themselves for showing up the National league for the third straight year.

Backfield Men Hurt In Westminster Squad

Preparations for the important Grove City game here Saturday have caused Coach "Dike" Beede, Westminster mentor, considerable concern.

Adrian Dible, left half, has not been in uniform since the Allegheny game. While it is hoped that the Verona flash will be able to start against the Crimson, there is no certainty that he will. John Hall, Youngstown, O., had been groomed for Dible's place.

Then, too, Ben Haldy, right half-back, was injured in the scrimmage session held last week and has been able to get in but a few light workouts since. If Haldy is not able to start against the Grovers, Beede will

McCarthy Says Cubs Are Great

Manager Of Beaten Chicago Cubs Says His Team Did Not Get Breaks Of Series

ALREADY PLAN FOR NEXT YEAR

By HAROLD JOHNSON, International News Service Special Correspondent.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 15.—Farewells were spoken today as the Cubs, beaten four times in five starts against the Athletics, returned from the world series, some of them not to meet again until next February when they assemble for spring training.

There was sadness throughout the ranks as they contemplated their homecoming from the wars, all of them cognizant of the fact that no brass band would be in the reception line. In the main, McCarthy and his wards seemed eager to get back to Chicago.

Beaten On Level

Strangely, we heard no alibis. The Cubs realized they had been beaten on the level, and they all seemed inclined to call it a year and forget.

William Wrigley, Jr., chief stockholder of the club, seemed to be hard hit by the outcome of the classic.

"We did the best we could," said the gum king, "and we didn't make the grade. Next season will see the Cubs strengthened. We will stick and fight and give Chicago another pennant."

"I still insist the Cubs are a great ball club," contended Joe McCarthy. "If we had have gotten the breaks the series today would stand three wins to two in our favor."

Shenango Tin Mill Duckpin League Starts

The American league of the Shenango Tin Mill Duck Pin teams opened the 1929-1930 season Thursday evening.

The league consists of six teams composed of foremen and clerks from the American Sheet and Tin Plate company's Shenango works. This is the third season of the league and considerable interest is being shown.

The officers are as follows: D. S. Pyle, president; C. C. McKibben, chairman; H. L. Trimble, secretary and Rudolph Theis treasurer. Schedule runs 26 weeks. Games are played every Thursday evening at 7:15 o'clock. The season terminates in the spring with a banquet and pennant award to the winning team.

Shenango mill already sponsors another league composed of department men, this being the Senior circuit, having been running for several years. Both organizations are sponsored by the American Sheet and Tin Plate company as a part of its extensive welfare work. By dividing into two groups the entire mill is represented and a spirit of friendly rivalry fellowship is built which is reflected into the work of the plant.

D. S. Pyle, manager of Shenango works, is at all times an advocate of clean sportsmanship and is greatly interested in this work and it is due to his activity that this program is made possible.

Saves Athletics

GEORGE WALBERG

George "Rube" Walberg, the tall right hander who relieved Earnshaw in the box yesterday for the Athletics and pitched a masterful game, fanning six men, Walberg did not start a series game, but was used as a relief pitcher in two games.

"Mule" Hits Homer

GEORGE HAAS

George "Mule" Haas, the center fielder of the Athletics who crashed out a home run in the ninth inning rally yesterday aiding the Macks in taking a 3 to 2 victory and the world's championship. Haas formerly played with Pittsburgh. He hit two home runs in the series.

Lawrence County League Players Will Attend Banquet At Bessemer Tonight

The annual Lawrence County League banquet will be held this evening at Bessemer. The affair will be held in the Bessemer High school building. Carl H. Lago and J. R. Chaney are in charge of the banquet.

It is hoped that a large number of the league players will attend the dinner. The event is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock. Quite a nice program has been arranged following the serving of the meal.

Betting On Series Was Rather Light

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The 1929 world series which ended yesterday with Bing Miller's double saw less money wagered on the outcome than any post-season affair in history, Broadway commissioners declare.

In contrast with the Yankee-Card series in 1926 and the Yankees' battles with the Pirates and Cards in '27 and '28, where millions were wagered, very little money changed hands during the series just completed.

The betting commissioners attributed the light betting to the fact that the Athletics were such strong favorites from beginning to end.

Saves Athletics

Yesterday, the Cubs went into the last half of the ninth behind a 2 to 0 lead. The Athletics, cause was all but hopeless. The first man, French, a pinch hitter, was brushed down on strikes and hope's tiny flames flickered and almost died. Over a period of 8 1-3 innings, the Athletics had made two futile hits and the side had been set down in order seven out of eight times. Hope, indeed, was on its death bed.

Suddenly, it arose, took up its bed and walked. It did more. It ran. It trotted. It shouldered in sheer joy Pat Malone, having pitched the perfect ball game was out there dominating the situation one minute. The next minute, he was no more. Like the wonderful one-hoss shay, his was a performance so wondrously constructed that, at the end, it disappeared in a puff of smoke.

Perhaps it wasn't Malone's fault. Some critics today were inclined to hold Zachary Taylor responsible for the way in which Malone pitched to Haas and Miller. It is baseball fortune that sometimes you pitch one way and the perverse ball goes another. Perhaps a word from those in the best position to decide might be valuable.

"The ball looked as big as a grapefruit and I hit it," said Haas. It is history that he hit it over the right field fence on a line, tying the score with the aid of Bishop who previously had singled. Malone, whether by fate or design, had pitched a fast one.

Philadelphia Today Is Baseball Crazy

Inhabitants Of Quaker City Shriek With Joy As Macks Take World's Title

Pat Malone Pitched Wonderful Ball But Collapsed; Series Drew $859,494 Gate

By DAVIS J. WALSH, International News Service Sports Editor PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—Outside, a city bereft of all reason shrieked its paen of joy, capering, gibbering, rioting with an abandon that was boundless. It had just been a witness of the most incoherent spectacle a World Series ever had known, a chills and fever finish that had brought glorious victory and a world's championship to Philadelphia in a tragic defeat and a sense of sickening disaster to Chicago.

Inside, the dressing room was dark and its vast quiet, by comparison, was ominous. Newspapermen, calling souls usually waited with unwonted consideration, their voices lowered to a respectful note.

Curtain Lowered

The curtain had been lowered for the last time. "Mule" Haas and "Bing" Miller, the stars of the piece, had bowed themselves off. Probably the greatest drama a World Series ever had produced was over. And the old maestro, having outlived the years to see this day come true, was unable to take his curtain call. Connie Mack, the man who made the miracle possible, had collapsed in his hour of triumph.

That was yesterday, five minutes after Haas had hit a home run over the fence, tying the score with one out in the ninth inning, and Miller had followed with a double to right center, scoring Simmons with the winning run.

Today, the world, having indulged itself in its orgy of emotion, was at peace again and Connie Mack, himself once more, was able to make the curtain speech that the choir of his advancing years had denied him yesterday. It was typical that his first word was a tribute to the rival manager, Joe McCarthy, and his second a frank admission that he had conceded this fifth game of the series to the Cubs and had been rebasing his plans for a sixth game that never came.

Cubs Were Smart

That was how fine they drew this series, in spite of the fact that the Athletics won four of the five games and outthit and outfielded the Cubs from first to last. They never outgamed the Cubs for one split-second. And the hair-raising finishes of Saturday and yesterday, far from disproving this declaration, actually sustained it.

On Saturday, the Cubs were in front, 8 to 0. Going into the final half of the seventh inning and were beaten by a record ten-run rally. This was made possible alike by Charley Root's inexplicable collapse, a blind sun that caused him to lose two flies in the same inning and a pebble that caused Simmons' smash to leap gladly over McMillan's head.

Had Two Run Lead

Yesterday, the Cubs went into the last half of the ninth behind a 2 to 0 lead. The Athletics, cause was all but hopeless. The first man, French, a pinch hitter, was brushed down on strikes and hope's tiny flames flickered and almost died. Over a period of 8 1-3 innings, the Athletics had made two futile hits and the side had been set down in order seven out of eight times. Hope, indeed, was on its death bed.

Beaver Falls Paper Pays Tribute To Ellwood Players

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 15.—Concerning the victory of Ellwood City high school football team over the Beaver Falls high school team, on the Ellwood field on Saturday afternoon, the Beaver Falls Tribune pays a tribute to several of the Ellwood men, in the following paragraphs:

"Standing out like beacon lights in the victory were the personages, Willie Justine and Bill King. These two husky Lee drilled backs, with the assistance of a well balanced forward wall, tore tremendous holes in the Falls defense that blew up consistently at crucial stages. Sharing honors with the two mentioned Ellwood athletes were Rocco and Pastin. The latter exhibited the reason why he is kept in the quartet of backs ahead of the elusive Frisk, while the former, brother of the noted pugilist, spent a profitable afternoon investigating conditions in the Tiger backfield until an injury removed him from the path of the Tiger performers."

"Justine together with his now famous 'act' stole the show again figuring in one altercation that caused his exit from the game under cover of the brawny shoulders of massive 'Peck' Lee. Willie, a really good football player who is remembered by white haired Falls High Alumni as a continual member of Ellwood eleven was up to his old tricks with his ability to crash the line on one occasion smashing right guard and reversing his field for an eighty yard jaunt for a touchdown. Agents from the Goff stables are hunting Willie while the writer, who is somewhat acquainted with the Ellwood 'stormy petrel' nominates him as Art Shires of county football."

Bible Class Has Dinner-Meeting

left hook in the first round, but he came back without taking a count. Adams pumped a stiff left to the face and a left to the body, while O'Roy tried for a right to the jaw. In the last two rounds O'Roy landed damaging rights and the officials figured he was entitled to a draw. It was a good fight.

Marshal Crochette, Cleveland, and Johnny Boda, Cleveland, bantamweights, staged a four-round whirlwind that was filled with spice. In the first part of the bout Boda had the edge and in the last portion of the battle Crochette came back strong.

The decision was called a draw and it was such a good fight that there was no argument over the decision. In the first round Billy Murphy and Benny Garnell, junior lightweights, mixed furiously until Referee George Chip stopped the bout.

Stopped in First
After Murphy hooked to the head Yarnell slipped to the floor. When he got up Murphy dropped him with a right, but he got up without a count and was dropped twice more. Another right sent him down a fourth time.

When he got up he was helpless and Referee George Chip stopped the bout and Murphy was awarded a technical knockout. It was Boda's straight knockout in as many fights. It was the first appearance here of Yarnell.

The crowd that witnessed the bout was small. The judges were Paella and Dugan. The referee was George Chip and Peter Capitola kept a check on the time. Deputy Commissioner Gardner supervised the boxing show.

Franch Cabinet Accepts Place In Naval Conference

(International News Service)
PARIS, Oct. 15.—The French cabinet today decided to accept Great Britain's invitation to the proposed five-power naval conference to be held in London in the early part of next year.

The decision of Premier Briand's cabinet was expected, but nevertheless soothed uneasiness in certain diplomatic quarters.

Had Conceded Game
"I wasn't so sure in the ninth inning yesterday that he mightn't do that even this year. In my mind, I virtually had conceded this game to the Cubs and was making my plans for the sixth game in Chicago. We hadn't been able to hit Malone and it looked as though we never would be able to hit him."

"But I was lucky. I had a game, fighting, resourceful club under me and they won in the one way that convinces me of their greatness."

"As for McCarthy, he got everything possible out of his club. He simply couldn't beat fate and the Athletics combined."

Prior to yesterday, Connie Mack hadn't won a pennant since 1914, or a world's title since the year preceding that. But in all the years of defeat it is quite evident, from his remarks today, that he hasn't forgotten how to win.

Handball Tourney Starts At Y.M.C.A

Many Groans, Bellows And Wheezes As Handball
Players Start Tournament

To the accompaniment of many bellows, wheezes and groans the opening of the Handball Double tournament was staged at the Y. M. C. A. on Monday afternoon.

It was a real opening and no fool in either. Handball in the past few years has gained quite a foothold of the men of New Castle. It is a fine activity and this coming season many new faces are to be seen at the "Y." Handball is a game that is used by many athletes to acquire accuracy of the eye and co-ordination of the muscles.

New Castle ranks high in this district as far as Handball is concerned. Miz Dart one of the participants in the present tourney and last year's Central Western Pennsylvania Singles champion is very enthusiastic over the coming season. The Physical department of the local "Y" has special class for Handball beginners every Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. Anybody who believes that he would like Handball playing is requested to get in touch with Henry MacNichols assistant Physical Director of the "Y" at once, or get in touch with Carl Paisley, Handball laymen.

Handicaps Given
Always in the line of sport there are some men who reach a point of ability and these men must be curbed. There are others not so far developed and must be given help therefore a handicap system, is being used in the tournament. Following are the different men and the handicap points given to each of them before the start of the match. A set of three games, 21 points to a game constitutes a match. Carl Paisley, Handball activities laymen assisted and had charge of forming the handicaps. Henry MacNichols, Acting Physical director of the "Y" has supervision of the tournament. The tourney will probably last until the Christmas holidays.

Enjoy your WINTER DRIVING!

..the GAS that STARTS COLD ENGINES fast

Is your car weather-bound? ... locked up in the garage —only to be used on occasional warm days? Bring it out! There's ruddy health in the nippy North Wind. There's fun going some place on the traffic-free highways ... and there's no longer any need to fuss and fume with your cold engine!

No need to strain your starter. No need to drain your battery or pain your nerves! This winter you can buy Sinclair Aircraft Gasoline.

You can have for your car the gas that starts cold engines fast—warms them up fast—keeps them running smoothly, even when you're riding into a zero wind!

© 1929 by S. R. C.

Sinclair Aircraft Gasoline is the Ace of high test gasolines—a remarkable gasoline—it meets the specifications of the Federal Specifications Board for Aviation Gasoline, domestic grade. It produces a carburetted mixture that fires readily on the first turning over of the engine. It greatly reduces the use of the choke and eliminates engine balk; also eliminates gas locks, preventing jerky operation. Reduces dilution of the motor oil in the crankcase.

You'll be proud of your car's superior performance this winter if you have Sinclair Aircraft Gasoline in your tank!

Senior Girl Reserve Recognition Service On Monday Evening

Over 100 Girls Received As Members Of Senior High Club

The Senior High School Reserve club had their recognition of new club members Monday evening in the Y. W. C. A. The club members recognized their new members with a new ceremonial. The ceremony was very impressive. It was built around the Children's Crusade and was entitled, "The Friendly Road."

Fifty girls were transferred to the Senior High club from the Junior High club. Approximately sixty girls were received into the club as new members. The membership of the club at the present time is approximately one hundred and seventy.

Blanket Of Fog Holds Up Traffic

State Highway Patrolmen Get No Reports Of Accidents However

Last night is said to have been the foggiest of nights in some time but despite the fog there were no automobile accidents according to State Highway patrolmen stationed here. Automobiles had all sorts of difficulties on all the highways and even in the city early this morning the blanket was difficult to penetrate for a distance more than 50 feet.

Numerous Ohio commercial trucks which journey early every morning to Youngstown were forced to park along the detour at Coitsville.

One of the worst blankets hung over the New Castle-Youngstown highway near Scotland lane and the absence of accidents is due entirely to careful operation of cars and busses.

Dairymen Hear Of New State Law

Morris Speaks To Lawrence County Dairymen's Asso- ciation Last Night

George C. Morris, representative of the state department addressed a large meeting of the Lawrence County Dairymen's association, Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Morris discussed the new act of assembly relative to the sanitary inspection of dairy farms.

Another talk by Morris is scheduled to be given soon which will be attended by retail milk dealers, bottlers and pasteurizers.

In his address last night, Mr. Morris brought out that on dairy farms where there are two or more cows each farm must be inspected annually.

He said the inspectors must be approved by the state department after they pass an examination.

He said that no milk may be sold from a farm unless it has been inspected and approved, and permits to sell milk are issued by the secretary of the state department of health, or his authorized agent.

Another point developed is that all cows must be tubercular tested and where milk is bottled a mechanical cap must be used so as not to come in contact with the workman's hands.

Mr. Morris also stated that dairy farms must keep their cans and bottles in a separate milk room, provided with an adequate supply of steam or hot water and used for no other purpose.

Dealers delivering milk to consumers in the city must be licensed, as at present, and in addition must see that every farm from which they obtain milk has passed the state inspection and a record of this must be kept on file.

Lawrence County Commissioners Stimulate Effort To Get Hillsville Bombers

County commissioners have offered a reward of $500 for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who bombed the house of Constable William Edwards at Hillsville.

An effort was made to blow up Constable Edwards' house several weeks ago.

Officials have been at work on the case but so far have been unable to unravel the mystery.

Organize Gym Class At New Wilmington

A gym class was organized Monday evening in the high school gymnasium at New Wilmington. The class is sponsored by the local Y. W. C. A. with Miss Dorothy Stewart, physical director in charge.

Eighteen enrolled in the class Monday evening and more people are expected to join the class. Miss Mary Tewell was in charge of weight and measurements at the meeting Monday evening. Mrs. Earl Douglas registered the members and collected fees. Miss Marion Way of Ellwood City, student at Westminster, is piano accompanist. The class will meet every Monday evening.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Early Trading Shows Higher Stock Prices

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Higher prices were quoted in the early trading today for the oil, motor-car, chemical, copper and a few of the railroad shares. Only 361,000 shares changed hands in the first half-hour, a smaller volume even than in yesterday's semi-holiday market.

The gloom that has enveloped the motor stocks was partially lifted by the reports and announcements of the heads of important companies. Shorts in Chrysler were given another squeeze as the stock mounted to 60 1/2, up 6 points from Monday's low, while Studebaker and Nash sold up on rumors of increases in prices of popular models of their cars. Official announcement of the formation of General Motors Radio Corporation, in conjunction with Radio Corporation, General Electric and Westinghouse was without special effect on these stocks.

Davidson Chemical, St. Joe Lead, Savage Arms, Paramount Famous Lasky and White Rock Mineral Springs were the centre of interest in a moderate upward move of low-priced specialties. A block of 11,000 shares of Paramount sold at the year's highest price of 75 as reports of an important announcement, to follow a prolonged meeting of the board today, were received in the financial district. St. Joe Lead at 76 was up 13 points from the low of last week.

High-priced industrials were bent back in the second hour by a selling wave which carried General Electric down about 4 points, American and Foreign Power from 169 to 162 1/2, U. S. Steel down a point to 226 1/2. These up-and-down-moves were typical of a "traders' market." Montgomery Ward sold off about 3 points and Radio lost 2.

Call money was unchanged at 6 per cent.

Pythians Name Committee For State Meeting

Organization Formed to Arrange Entertainment Of Grand Lodge Here In 1930

REPRESENTATIVES OF DISTRICT PRESENT

With more than 100 representatives of the various Pythian Lodges present, an organization was effected at a meeting held in the Pythian Home here last evening to begin arrangements for the entertainment of the Grand Lodge, which will meet in session in New Castle in 1930.

An executive committee was named consisting of W. C. McKim of Ellwood City, president; William H. McNary of Greenville, vice president; Don Dinsmore of New Castle, secretary; W. J. Holzman of Beaver Falls, treasurer; and E. H. Hutchison of Harmony, Mrs. Hilda Diven of West Bridgewater, Mrs. Blanche Wise of Butler, Mrs. Sara Barnes of Mercer, and Mrs. Jennie Rea of New Castle, other members of the committee.

Representatives were present at the meeting last evening from lodges in Beaver, Mercer, and Lawrence counties, and considerable enthusiasm was shown in the matter.

Meetings will be held once each month from now on, when the plans of the organization will be furthered.

At the conclusion of last night's meeting, lunch was served by Castle Temple, No. 37, Pythian Sisters.

It will be remembered that New Castle was selected as the meeting place of the 1930 Grand Lodge sessions, at the annual meeting in Easton, Pa., when C. W. Herman Hess of New Castle was named Grand Chancellor for Pennsylvania.

The members of the lodge from the local district are making arrangements to have the coming Grand Lodge session here the best that has yet been held, and the organization which was formed last evening, will work toward this end.

Stocks Drop Due To Money Fluctuation

By W. S. COUSINS,
International News Service Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Having enjoyed the benefits of 5 and 6 per cent call money for about a week, Wall Street and the stock market shied at a 7 per cent rate today. Industrial stocks which had been climbing moderately in the first two hours were thrown on the market in the early afternoon at concessions of from 1 to 3 points from the best prices of the day.

U. S. treasury withdrawals of cash from the banks, and heavy mid-October dividend payments by the American Tel. and Tel. and other large corporations tightened up the money strings today, and call money returned to 7 per cent. The little bulls took fright at the announcements, throwing their stocks overboard in an effort to hold profits on stocks bought on last week's reaction.

Against Tariff Tinkering
American manufacturers meeting in New York in annual convention were plainly out-spoken against tariff tinkering, but their reports showed business in slightly better condition than at this time last year. Their questionnaire on industry and business in general revealed an encouraging situation, with plain sailing indicated for the balance of the year.

The early advance in motor car utility and specialty stocks did not carry very far. General Electric sold down about 8 points at 360. American and Foreign Power, after reaching 169 1/2, dropped in short order to 159 1/2 and rallied part way. Montgomery Ward fell through to 107 1/2 and U. S. Steel lost 4 points at 223 3/4.

New Haven's spectacular rise to 131 3/4, the highest price in fifteen years, was easily the feature of the railroad shares, most of which were in better form than the industrials.

Reiber Wins Post Office Tournament

Proves Himself Champion Horse-shoe Pitcher In Finals At Noon

Clarence Reiber of Dewey avenue, carrier on route No. 9, won the New Castle postoffice clerks' and carriers' horseshoe tournament when he defeated the runner up, Jess Wilson, in the finals of the competition at noon today.

For six weeks the clerks and rural and city postmen of the local office have been standing their ground against the onslaughts of one another. One by one they were eliminated and the group of contestants gradually grew smaller.

It is said that more than 50 men participated during the contest. By virtue of his win, Reiber will receive the beautiful fountain pen and pencil set which the Castle Stationery company offered to the best pitcher.

Local Miss Has Peculiar Plants

Miss Edna Engstrom, of the Pulaski road, has raised in her garden, a most unusual vegetable, called a Bananamuskmelon. Miss Engstrom has raised a whole family of the species, ten in all.

The vegetable looks like a squash and tastes like a cucumber, according to Miss Engstrom. The seeds were obtained from a farm in Minnesota, and were planted in the local garden, in May.

One of the Bananamuskmelons is 1 1/2 feet long and 5 inches thick at one end. The color is yellow. According to Miss Engstrom, the vegetables are quite good to eat.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Perhaps you remember that now famous editorial which appeared in a Philadelphia paper years ago under the caption "What's the Matter With Kansas?" After reading the press dispatch below I'll bite. What is the matter with Kansas? Read it yourself, customers, maybe I'm wrong.

TOPEKA, KAN., Oct. 15. Rules for the guidance of kissers were issued today by the Kansas board of health, in cooperation with the United States public health service.

Never kiss in crowded places or a poorly ventilated room, the instructions say, but if you must kiss, take a hot mustard foot bath and avoid drafts in case you feel "all in" afterwards.

Other rules: Guard against sudden changes in temperature when kissing. Kissing in a coon-skin coat one minute and a lighter apparel the next is extremely dangerous.

Don't kiss any person who has chills and fever.

At a party, where postoffice and similar games are played, be sure to gargle frequently.

Better read it again or you may figure you had one of those evening ponies, or nightmares, or what would you offer. Just for no good reason at all, let's take the thing apart, there must be a catch in it somewhere.

Exhibit A. Never kiss in a crowded place. Why not? Did you ever try one in a telephone booth? Or an elevator? And that crack about taking a hot mustard foot bath in case you feel all in. What kind of girls do they have in Kansas anyway?

Kissing in a coonskin coat one minute and then in lighter apparel the next is dangerous. Did you ever get kissed in a coonskin coat, or maybe you never went to college. And what would the difference be if it was a coonskin or squirrel? And why a minute between? Does it take a full minute to lay off a coonskin coat?

And then that one about gargling when they play postoffice and other games. Gargling. Now there's a sport. Does this mean that they serve a gargle with every kiss, and anyway who wants to gargle 85 or 90 times in an evening. But postoffice, isn't that just too sweet for words!

They used to play a game like that down on the south side before the war, but there never used to be much mail for me. If I had had to gargle after every busser, I would still have had half of my first gargle left when the party was over. Maybe it was my technique, but a plumber's assistant mentioned one night that perhaps my face had something to do with it.

Not even your best friends tell you some things, but that plumber's assistant was no friend. And these remarks concerning the rules of the Kansas Board of Health come from an academic viewpoint only.

It seems that most of the movies or rather the talkies, these days have to have a few dancing girls in the plot to sweeten it up. Here's a question that has puzzled me. Why is it that a shapely girl is always attractive in those hip length socks they wear, but a fat girl in them looks positively immoral?

Now that the world's series is over we can settle back for some serious consideration of the present football crop. Deucedly annoying, the world's series. One gets double plays mixed up with double passes, and strikeouts with time out.

Hope you enjoyed the player board in front of the TV News. It means a lot of time and effort and money and it was there for nothing else than the entertainment of the baseball fans.

MacLean, Stage Actor, Reads At Noonday Meeting

Reads Selections Of Shakespearean Plays At Lions Club Meeting

R. D. MacLean of California, veteran Shakespearean actor and known to countless lovers of the stage throughout the country, read selections from the play "As You Like It" at the meeting of the New Castle Lions club dinner-meeting today at noon.

The "Seven Ages of Man" was the selection which he chose to read today. It was some 30 years ago that he last presented Shakespearean plays in New Castle.

His visit to the city is in connection with the "Merchant of Venice" performance at the Cathedral tonight, in which he will play the role of Shylock.

Round, tapered corners

make Kotex inconspicuous under every type of gown

KOTEX is designed so carefully there's never a suggestion of its use! Corners are rounded and tapered for perfect fit. There is no awkward bulk... no way in which Kotex can ever embarrass.

Why Kotex is light, dainty

Kotex can be made without bulk or weight because of its unusual filler... Cellucotton absorbent wadding. Cellucotton absorbs 5 times more than an equal weight of cotton. You get protection, therefore, without a trace of old-time bulkiness.

Kotex deodorizes, too. And disposes instantly, just like tissue.

Kotex filler is used in 85% of our leading hospitals in preference to any other absorbent... definite proof of safety and superiority.

KOTEX IS SOFT...

1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, lasting softness.

2—Safe, secure... keeps your mind at ease.

3—Kotex filler is far lighter and cooler than cotton, yet absorbs 5 times as much.

4—In hospitals... Kotex is the identical material used by surgeons in 85% of the country's leading hospitals. Kotex—45c for 12—at any drug, dry goods or department store. Kotex Super-Size—65c for 12.
